AT WHITE HOUSE

President Harrison and Cabinet Receive the Public at the Executive Mansion.

Vice President Morton Sets a New Example and Adds to the Pleasures of the Day.

Low Necks, Long Sleeves, With Frills and Fluffs on a Yellow Background is the Fashion.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1.—An entirely new feature in the New Year reception today practically doubled the scope and opportunities of it, and the innovation has caused a great deal of talk. When the program for the occasion at the White House was announced a few days ago it was followed in the papers by the statement that the vice-president and Mrs. Morton would, an hour after the opening of the presidential reception, be at their palatial home on Rhode Island avenue, to receive the public. The same callers who visited the White House, in much the same order as was observed in the program, arranged for events at the executive mansion.

Since the vice-presidency has had an incumbent, it having previously been vacant for a long term of years, the receptions of Mr. and Mrs. Morton have been on a similar scale with those of the cabinet circle and at about the same hour, so that the change today was all the more noticeable. But those who had an opportunity of participating in the hospitality dispensed by the vice president and his wife warmly welcomed it. The weather, which for the past week or two has been mostly atrocious, was all that could be desired. The day broke clear and bright and the atmosphere was just bracing enough to be enjoyable and seasonable.

For the event at the White House the usual elaborate arrangements had been made, but with even more striking effect than ever. Since new year, 1891, the lower floor of the executive mansion, with the exception of the East room, had practically all been redecorated and fitted. These improvements have been mentioned from time to time, but not until today when they shone out resplendent beneath the glare of hundreds of electric lights, have their beauty and appropriateness been fully known. This was most strikingly shown in the effect produced upon the beholder as he entered the door of the mansion. The raised carpet work on the walls, in gold and light brown is done in exquisite taste and the medallion busts of Washington and Lincoln in alto relieve on the east and west walls of the main corridor are real works of art. More striking still, the niches are seldom seen even in the best oil paintings.

The general good effect of the changes and improvements noted was heightened by the presence of the electric lights which except in the blue room have been added since the last winter. The effect was given. But the crush of the crowd today demonstrated anew the truth of the statement that the White House is enlarged according to the plans of Mrs. Harrison or otherwise it will not accommodate with any comfort or convenience those who would like to participate in such an event, or a quarter of those who feel compelled for various reasons to improve the opportunity. The offering of meeting, even for an instant only, the chief magistrate of the nation and his wife as they stood by the entrance to the mansion, was a privilege for the members of his official family. For this occasion the White House was made brilliant and attractive as possible, and the tout ensemble of the day was a previous reception. Both the President and Mrs. Harrison are fond of plants and flowers, and the flowers and plants exhausted the capacity of the governmental conservatories. Flowers were everywhere, but in the most tasteful fusion in the magnificent East room, where the guests lingered for a time to exchange greetings with friends and to enjoy the really splendid display which met the eye on every hand. Immense palms and other tropical plants transformed the room into a bower of beauty. The window recesses held potted flowering specimens, while the mantels under the mirrors were hidden behind great banks of green and brilliant colored flowers. The beautiful glass chandeliers had their graceful branches almost covered with wreaths of smilax and other running vines; and ferns, through which the glint of cut glass extended by the rays of electric lights played hide and seek in the spectator's vision. In the red, blue and green parlors, the designs were in harmony with the smaller size of the apartments and cut flowers were more abundant. The display was oriental in its richness and variety and the languorous effect of masses of flowers was quite apparent.

There is one more if no other, attaching to the official receptions at the White House which is promptness. A schedule was arranged for the movement of visitors and it is followed with almost astronomical regularity and precision. Miss Elkins made her initial appearance with the cabinet attire in a magnificent dress of yellow satin brocade with elbow sleeves and V shaped neck front and back. The trimming was pearl passementerie and point lace. Her ornaments were diamonds.

Mrs. Wamamker's was a full reception gown of heliotrope silk with velvet bodice, high neck and long sleeves. Mrs. Noble wore yellow brocade and white lace, the neck high and sleeves reaching to the wrist.

Mrs. Rusk's gown was silver grey satin, brocade in diagonal lines of lighter grey and pink; cut en train and trimmed with duchess lace.

The preponderance of yellow for ground work and the presence of chiffon for trimming must have struck the most casual observer and demonstrated the far reaching influence of the chrysanthemum craze encouraged as it has been by the various flower shows.

The official order of the reception was followed. The diplomatic corps, accompanied in brilliant uniforms, accompanied by the international railway commissioners, came first as a compliment to them the Marine band played airs of all nations. In regular order came the supreme court of the United States and other members of the federal judiciary, then senators and representatives in congress and their ladies, new members predominating in the officers of the army and navy in their uniforms, of seers of the executive departments of public institutions and war veterans followed and the ceremony closed with the reception of the general public for an hour and a half.

STORM ON THE COAST

The Heaviest of the Season, and Many Vessels Ready for Sea.
PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 1.—The southeaster that swept along the Oregon coast Monday and Tuesday nights was the heaviest storm this winter, and fears are entertained for the safety of vessels. Immense quantities of timber were blown down in the coast mountains which broke the force of the storm from the Willamette valley to Portland. A message by boat from Astoria at the mouth of the Columbia river says: The battleship Greiner broke from her moorings and smashed a dock. The Anglo-American cannery and a number of small houses were blown down. The highest tide for 15 years blew in from the sea, backing the waters of the bay over streets in the lower part of the city. The river to Portland is down in numerous places and it will be several days before trees which have been blown down can be removed. Saw mills all along the river were wrecked. Every road in Clatsop county so far as heard from is blockaded by fallen trees. It is feared some fatal accidents will be reported as there are scores of settlers cabins through the woods. There are now 22 loaded grain vessels at Astoria ready for sea.

DEMOCRATS FOR SHERMAN.

Reports From Columbus Say They Will Help Beat Foraker.
CINCINNATI, Jan. 1.—The Post's Columbus special says: It is apparent that in case Gov. Foraker wins in the caucus the Sherman men, determined to defeat him, will endeavor to secure an alliance with the Democrats who will flock to his support in numbers large enough to defeat Foraker. In other words, the supporters of Sherman are willing by combination with democrats to bolt the caucus and save their man. Hon. Wm. C. Gear, democratic senator and Senator Marshall, of Dayton, state they have been approached on the subject and are willing to enter into an arrangement of that kind. Mayor Tom Beaton, one of Foraker's managers, said that he had heard the story and that the well known hatred of Gov. Foraker made the democratic combination strong in the interest of Sherman seems plausible to many.

THEY DIED TOGETHER.

WHEELING, W. Va., Jan. 1.—At Flushing, a short distance from here on the Ohio side of the river, there arrived Tuesday evening of this week a young couple, who registered at the Flushing hotel as J. Coventry and wife, of Tippecanoe. The man was apparently 25 and the woman 18 years of age. They spent Wednesday in their room, but yesterday morning failed to appear at breakfast. Investigation developed the fact that some time during the night the couple had committed suicide. They lay side by side on the bed and two empty morphine bottles told the story. The only clue to their identity was a note on the table directing that their bodies be forwarded to Luther Coventry, at Tippecanoe.

Real Estate Man Missing.

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 1.—Ten detectives of the entire city police force are hunting every effort to discover some trace of the whereabouts of W. W. Hannan, a wealthy and prominent real estate agent who mysteriously disappeared about 10 o'clock Wednesday night. Hannan is one of the best known men in the city and his disappearance is a character for honesty and morality.

Sane, But in an Asylum.

NEW YORK, Jan. 1.—The Morning Advertiser says that Pauline Cecilia Cleveland, a niece of Horace Greely, has been committed to an insane asylum despite the protests of her friends that she is perfectly sane. The lady's friends charge that the Rev. Frank Montrose Cleland, who married Miss Gabrielle Greely, cousin of the woman who is now confined in an insane asylum, is at the bottom of the affair and seeks to get rid of her in this way because she is a Roman Catholic.

Rumor Denied.

CHICAGO, Jan. 1.—Director Nelson Morris denies the truth of the statement published some days ago to the effect that the Distillers and Cattle Feeders company has added $500,000 to its surplus account during the past three months. He says that the company has some increase in the surplus account due to the exceptionally large export sales recently.

A Conditional Surrender.

NEW YORK, Jan. 1.—If the bail is reasonable and if he can walk abroad until tried by a jury Brakeman Herriek, who is charged with having been the cause of the recent wreck at Hastings, will surrender himself today to the law officers. Train Dispatcher Ossman will be produced before the jury on Saturday. The matter will be presented to the grand jury of Westchester county at an early date.

The Border Bushwhackers.

LAREDO, Texas, Jan. 1.—Gentry and his followers are in Tamalipas, Mex. Go strong. H. A. Herbert, of New York, was a train crossing into Mexico with arms and ammunition. An attempt was made to arrest him but he escaped. The arms and ammunition were seized.

Government Departments Closed.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1.—All the executive departments were closed at noon yesterday by order of the President, a customary observance on New Year's eve. They will remain closed until tomorrow.

TO BATTLE GARZA

United States Troops Will Battle With the Bandit Before the Sun Goes Down.

General Stanley Says the Government at Washington Doesn't Understand the Situation.

Better Defenses Along the Border Deemed Essential to Peace, Safety and Good Order.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Jan. 1.—The scene of Garza's active field operations are from Fort Ringgold to Laredo or Brownsville, a distance of about 100 miles either way. Under these conditions it will be impossible for any news to be received here even if an engagement occurred before late today. Gen. Stanley stated yesterday that officials at Washington are utterly at a loss to understand how such troubles can take place. This is because they have no practical knowledge of the vastness or of the condition of the Rio Grande frontier.

Stanley says that he has repeatedly called the attention of the war department in his reports to the necessity of increasing the military force on this frontier but it has been the policy of the chief authorities instead of acting upon his recommendations to decrease the protection already afforded by taking away the troops on duty there to some other section where their presence is not of so great importance. News of a fight between United States troops and Garza's men is expected here at any time.

THE WEATHER.

The Soft Snap Extends From the Rio Grande to the Nemadji.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1.—The long thaw depression which lately extended from Texas to Lake Superior has moved slowly eastward and this morning stretches from Arkansas to Lake Superior. The clearing condition has remained almost stationary on the Atlantic coast though diminishing in magnitude. A second clearing condition with very low temperature has remained nearly stationary but it is not expected to prevail in the Atlantic states today with rain in New England tonight or tomorrow morning. Fair or clearing weather will prevail in the Northwest, the upper middle Mississippi valleys. Rain may generally be expected elsewhere. Continued low temperature will prevail in the Mississippi valley and it will be slightly warmer in the Atlantic states; generally low temperature elsewhere.

DUKE OF DEVONSHIRE.

Takes Leave of His Old Constituency and Succeeds His Sir.

LONDON, Jan. 1.—The duke of Devonshire, more generally known as Lord Devonshire, the unionist leader in the house of commons, who enters the house of lords by reason of the recent death of his father, the seventh duke of Devonshire, has made a farewell address to the members of the Devonshire constituency in Lancashire, the seat which he represented in parliament until he succeeded to the dukedom.

In this address the duke said that he had never regretted his protest against the liberals breaking their pledges in regard to Ireland. He added that he was sorry the liberal leader (Mr. Gladstone) had destroyed the usefulness of the party which suffered so severely recently in a storm during a voyage from Malta, her protective deck being much damaged by the waves, is now at Salonia and unable to leave those waters.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

London book publishing firms, to the number of 104, have agreed to an eight-hour day for binders without reduction of wages, and an increased rate for overwork.

Slavin is still trying to get backing to meet Sullivan.

H. M. S. Dreadnaught, the British war ship which suffered so severely recently in a storm during a voyage from Malta, her protective deck being much damaged by the waves, is now at Salonia and unable to leave those waters.

St. Paul gentlemen will back a scheme for a club in the new Central Baseball association.

Titus in Kentucky.

MIDDLESBOROUGH, Ky., Jan. 1.—H. E. Titus, of New York, supposed to be the defaulting Wall street broker, has been registered at the Middlesborough hotel since Dec. 24. Yesterday morning he paid his bill and walked out and has not since been seen. A hand bag which he left behind him contained newspapers with long accounts of the defalcation. One of the newspapers reported him short $250,000.

HILL'S ADIEU.

Ho Takes Leave of the Albany With a Banquet.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 1.—The farewell banquet of the state officers to retiring Governor Hill took place tonight at the hotel Kenmore and was one of the most elaborate affairs ever held in this city. The tables occupied the entire length of the long diningroom and were in a double row, with a cross table at the head. The hall was decorated with potted plants and palms and the tables laden in the center with orchids, roses and other cut flowers that looked as if they had sprung out of the floor. At each guest's place was an orchid and a plain menu card. There were 150 guests at the table and for each one, as a souvenir, there was an elaborate menu card.

Every one of the 150 seats were occupied when, to the strains of "Hail to the Chief," the governor elect and Governor Hill entered. Secretary of State Rice took the center of the table with Governor Hill on his right and Governor Flower on the left. The other state officers flanked the two governors, and then the sides others took seats. Hon. Edward Murphy took the first seat to the right of the state officers, and Hon. W. F. Sheehan the one to the left.

THE GRAIN FOR RUSSIA.

No Arrangements Made for Transporting Iowa's Quota.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1.—No arrangements have as yet been made for the transportation to Russia of the grain gathered by the state of Iowa. The Russian government has signified its willingness to transport the grain and states in their merchant marine vessels if this government finds itself unable to voluntarily tender the use of its ships. Senator Allison, the representative of the state of Iowa in this matter, has made no request of the secretary of the navy for the designation of any ship. Senator Washburn has done so, however, as the representative of the Minnesota millers. If Secretary Tracy does not tender the use of a naval vessel it is probable that the grain will be transported in Russian craft.

To Kill His Friend.

NEW YORK, Jan. 1.—Charles A. Doerner, a special officer of Brooklyn, attempted to kill Lawyer John Roesch yesterday afternoon in the Williamsburg district of that city. Doerner had often been befriended by Mr. Roesch and there is no known cause for his act. A second clearing condition with very low temperature has remained nearly stationary but it is not expected to prevail in the Atlantic states today with rain in New England tonight or tomorrow morning. Fair or clearing weather will prevail in the Northwest, the upper middle Mississippi valleys. Rain may generally be expected elsewhere. Continued low temperature will prevail in the Mississippi valley and it will be slightly warmer in the Atlantic states; generally low temperature elsewhere.

Balfour and Londonderry.

DUBLIN, Jan. 1.—The Right Hon. A. J. Balfour, first lord of the treasury and conservative leader in the house of commons (better known as the late chief secretary for Ireland), has refused the offer of the citizens of Londonderry to confer the freedom of that city upon him. Mr. Balfour, in courteously declining the offer referred to, said that one of his reasons for not desiring to accept the freedom of the city of Londonderry was the fact that he objected to mixing in any way in local political matters.

Fire at Nashua.

NASHUA, N. H., Jan. 1.—Shortly after 12 o'clock this morning fire was discovered issuing from McQuesten & Co.'s elevator on Front street. The flames spread rapidly and soon enveloped the furniture factory of Howard, Leach & P. French, which contents were destroyed. The total loss will reach $40,000, on which there is about $25,000 insurance. The fire is supposed to be of incendiary origin.

Blessings of the Pope.

NEW YORK, Jan. 1.—The Herald has the following: The Rome correspondent of the Daily Telegraph (London), says that he visited the vatican last night to obtain an interview with the pope, but was not accorded that privilege. The pope, however, sent him a message saying that he bestowed his blessing upon all mankind and that he would pray for continued peace and good will among men.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Jan. 1.—Wm. McDonald, aged 14, while skating on a pond south of the city today, broke through the ice and went under. Walter McDonald, 13 and 15 years old, tried to save him and both broke through. Walter Dolan and McDonald were both drowned while Lewis Dolan was saved by Ed. Morse, aged 15.

interest to the public will be charged for at regular rates. Personal communications, if used at all, will be changed for invariably.

IMMEDIATE ACTION NEEDED.

The first of the year is a fitting time to start out with new resolutions, and one of the best that the people of Duluth as a whole can make is to find a way into town for the Winnipeg and Mesaba roads. Long have they been knocking at our doors and long have we been holding out the promise of needed cooperation on our part, but thus far nothing helpful has been done.

True we have undertaken to arrange a general terminal system through the St. Paul & Duluth and Northern Pacific roads, and may yet succeed on such terms as they see fit to make. But we cannot reasonably expect that they will place all other roads, and especially, competing ones, on an equal footing with themselves.

Possibly they might give the Mesaba advantageous terms, as it would be a feeder rather than competitor for them, but the Winnipeg and South Shore are competitors of the Northern Pacific while the Omaha is a formidable competitor of the St. Paul & Duluth, and these three competing lines are in a measure left out in the cold.

The time has now arrived to take such interests as we can into our own hands and leave such as we must in the hands of others. We need abate none of our enthusiasm to secure such terminal facilities as those possessing them are willing to give, but there is no good reason for further delay in using the resources that we ourselves possess. Several of the stockholders in the Duluth Transfer Railway company have expressed a willingness to turn over their interests at cost if a terminal, open to all roads, would be made, while many property owners along the proposed line have promised under such conditions to give the right of way, and it seems likely that all would do so.

This would afford an immediate entrance for the Winnipeg and Mesaba at a nominal cost, and would leave the gates of the city ajar for any other road desiring to use such terminal. Certain it is that the Winnipeg cannot buy its way in, for it has not the capital to do so, and the one right thing for Duluth to do is to open a way and bid all the world welcome. We have the power in our hands to do this, and yet while our little neighbor city across the bay has been building ore docks and offering free access to them, thus to take advantage of the years of work expended by our people in getting the Winnipeg out of the air and on to the ground, we have practically sat down and said in a contented way that the road had to come to Duluth and it could look out for itself in doing so.

This is hardly the part of wisdom, and we should be no longer detailed into such a course. The Mesaba folks say that when their road is built they can lay iron ore down in Duluth for home consumption at about $2 a ton, and if such an end is not worth working for, it is time to cease all efforts in the upbuilding of a city. The Duluth & Winnipeg holds its annual meeting in New York next week at which time it is possible new capital may be put in and plans for an early extension into the Red River wheat fields determined on. Ore and grain will therefore make up the bulk of their business, and The Herald would rather see these commodities unloaded in Duluth than the Alliance buy somewhere between here and Ashland. It would not, perhaps, seriously affect Duluth to have a single road throw its influence elsewhere, but in the aggregate these seemingly unimportant things make or mar the commerce of a city. We want the cooperation and good will of every enterprise great or small that we can honorably secure, and now that both these roads are looking eagerly for an entrance we shall be unworthy of ourselves and of Duluth if we do not at once take vigorous and aggressive action to overcome every obstacle that lies between our city and success.

HON. T. E. BOWEN.

As briefly announced in these columns last night, Hon. T. E. Bowen has retired from the management of the Duluth News after acting a year and a half in that capacity, and with the happy new year becomes a private citizen.

It is always a pleasant duty to speak well of those in whom through intimate acquaintance we have learned to place the fullest confidence, and it is fitting that it be said on occasions of this kind when old business relations are thrown off and new ones are assumed. Mr.
Bowen is a gentleman who wears well and is best appreciated by those who have more than a passing acquaintance.
He establishes warm attachments between himself and office associates, and holds pleasant and amiable relations with his business competitors. He has made the News a clean, conservative paper, every way creditable to Duluth, and the best wish to his successors is that they may not depart from the dignified and manly course he has pursued.

We are pleased to announce that Mr.
Bowen will remain in the city to husband his private interests and lend as heretofore a helping hand in building up Duluth the solid and superb.

A Chicago interview with Henry George which reads very much as if it wasn't so, has been sent out to the press.
Mr. George is made to say that he has abandoned the single tax theory and pretty much everything else he has ever advocated. The kernel of the interview is found in the remark, "I have abandoned theoretical philosophy and accepted the philosophy of fact." As to labor troubles he is made to say that they will solve themselves in time and the right come uppermost in the end. Et tu, George!

It hath been rumored that the two local factions of the republican party are endeavoring to get together, and that among the means to that end it is proposed to make Mayor Davis the party candidate for another term and give John B. Sutphin the nomination for congress. Such a combination, if it can be secured, would prove a strong one, and would indicate the development of a filly-like wisdom which may show itself in the shape of horse sense as the plan blooms into perfection later on.

It is natural that the opposition press should jump on to Dave Hill and charge the court of appeals with being time servers and corruptionists. The Herald entertains a higher regard for the courts.
David's greatest crime is in out generating those who have been hunting for his scalp.

The Herald is printed at noon today in order that its force may have a half holiday, and if the paper is not quite as complete as usual we have to comfort ourselves and the subscribers with the thought that the sacrifice is made in a noble cause.

The Herald presents on another page the important features of Collector of Customs Johnson's annual report which will be commented on at another time.
Figuratively speaking the report is elo-quently all right.

Duluth has a new Grand Army post organized last night to which The Herald in the fullness of its good will to all sends New Years greetings.

This is a proper time to renew our efforts and find a way into Duluth for every railway in the land.

Three hundred and sixty-six happy days to all, and as many blessings on the leap year girl.

This plate racket seems to be done to a turn.

Origin of the Gerrymander.

(Frank Leslie's Weekly.)

It is just 80 years since the Massachusetts Legislature committed the political iniquity which gave the world "gerrymander," both as a verb and a noun, to our vocabulary. And now the President of the United States uses it seven times in his message to Congress, and supplies forcible definitions of the term, by calling the acts it implies "disgraceful partisan jugglery" and "political robbery." The word has gained a firm place in our language because the crime it denotes has become more common and dangerous with the lapse of time.

In the second year of the administration of Elbridge Gerry as Governor of Massachusetts, and before he was vice-President, the Legislature so juggled with the Senatorial districts as to overthrow the Federalist power in the senate.
A map of one of the distorted districts looked like some fabulous monster, and Gilbert Stuart, the artist, captured the resemblance to a salamander, and the people, wrongly ascribing the blame to Governor Gerry, called it a gerrymander.

A Story for the Black Tulip.
(Washington Star.)

A story is told of a tulip fancier, in Holland, who secured after years of cultivation what had up to that time been deemed unobtainable, namely, a black tulip. He got only a single bulb, but it was worth thousands of dollars. Having it on his table, he left the room for a few moments, and coming back he found a friend waiting for him. The tulip bulb was gone.

"Where is my black tulip bulb?" he inquired anxiously.

"Do you mean that thing I found on your table a moment ago?" replied his friend. "I thought it was some sort of an apple, and I ate it!"

There has never been a black tulip since.

Writers and Reporters.
(Harpers Weekly.)

Sir Edwin Arnold says that the average editorial leader in an English newspaper is the product of three hours of diligent work by an accomplished man such as Andrew Lang, for instance. He himself once wrote one of 200 words with a lead pencil in an hour—a rate of speed which seems prodigious, and which a crack American reporter, writing against time, could hardly excel; but a man who has written 8000 leaders, as the author of "The Light of Asia" has done, must necessarily have been expert at it.

Sir Edwin thinks that the reporter should be rated on a level with the editor, and that, personally, he would as soon report a fire as to interview Lord Salisbury or Mr. Gladstone on some great question of political policy. Why not? It is not difficult to ask questions and remember answers, but to take genius to discover the name of the occupant of the third floor back, when the occupants of the third floor are burning briskly in the cellar.

Well Maybe so, There's Lots in Both Kinds.

Ely Iron Home: We think The Herald is putting it a little strong when it says that there is more ore in sight than the workings on the Mesaba than the Minnesota ever had. Recent discoveries in No. 8 shaft of the Minnesota disclose to view 1,000,000 tons of hard Bessemer ore in one block. How much more there is at the Minnesota remains to be uncharted. In regards to the steam shovel business, we wish to remark, this is spreading it on a little too thick. No doubt the Mesaba is something great but development will show what there is. After the Mesaba has been worked and shipped out, the Vermilion there are strong prospects of the people knowing a little more about it. The Herald is spreading it on too scrumptious.

USHERED IN THE YEAR

A Ringing of Bells and a Blowing of Whistles Woke the Sleepers in the Early Morning Hours.

New Year's Day Was Generally Observed This Year as Any Other Holiday on the Calendar.

Service at Churches, and Receptions and Balls Coming; The Crowd Goes to Tower to the New Hotel.

A good many of us were awakened at midnight by what sounded like fire whistles. If we only turned over in bed and went to sleep again we didn't realize it was New Year's, but if we looked out for the fire we did. Most of the whistles were in that half-civilized tone over the bay where noise goes for matter. But it was a goodly noise, and it welcomed the new year quite well.

All the banks and most of the public offices were closed all day while the stores and business houses were only open in the forenoon. The business of the holiday was observed as thoroughly as Christmas. This forenoon there was a very general turnout of sleigh parties and the sleighing is excellent.

afternoon by special train to attend the formal opening of the new hotel at Tower, the Vermilion, an illustration of which appears elsewhere. They will have a jolly time and the crowd, as it left Duluth, was a jolly one. F. M.

Arne, the manager, will open the hotel with a grand ball. People will be present from Duluth, Superior, Minneapolis and elsewhere. Music will be furnished by Hore's orchestra. The banquet will be the rarest feast ever spread in Northern Minnesota. The reception committee consists of Dr. H. V. Goetz, W. H.

McQuade, L. A. Marsell, John Kustgard, F. L. Murray, John Naslund, James Jus-pet, H. L. Nelson, J. D. Bru-bacher. There is also an honorary committee, as follows: Wm. R. Stone, Alex. Michael, John G. Brown, Simon Clark, J. P. Morrow and Amos Shephard, of Duluth; Dr. C. G. Shipman, Hon.

O. D. Kinney and John Anderson, of Ely; and Two Harbors.

This afternoon, from 3 to 6 o'clock, the Scottish Rite masters are at home to about 1000 friends in their beautiful quarters in the Temple. Light refreshments, provided by the Spalding, are being served and a very good time is passing. The committee in charge consists of Wm. F. Richardson, Stephen L.

Nelson, Chas. McMillen, A. F. Rudolph and B. Silberstein.

At the Methodist churches parties of ladies and gentlemen watched the old year out and the new year in. A short talk was made by Dr. Stocking at the First church. The Catholic churches also celebrated the day, as usual. At 10:30 o'clock there was low mass, and at 7 o'clock this evening vespers will be celebrated. At the pro-cathedral Bishop McGoldrick will preach. Many of the Y. P. S. C. E. of the Protestant churches met in prayer early this morning.

There was a small, but pleasant party last night at the home of the Misses Payton, and those present saw the new year in. Several public balls also took place. This evening Mrs. Ray and Mrs.
Markell gave an elaborate reception and dancing party at the residence of the latter. There has been but little observance of the old custom of New Year's calls today.

DON'T SCARE MUCH.

Third Division Property Owners Laugh at a Pretence Syndicate.

This morning's Tribune had an article, "which looked as if it might have been inspired," said many Third division property owners who were shown it today. It stated that a syndicate had bought, or would buy, the Pretence claim to that division. It said:

"The gentlemen now in the city do not concern themselves with the legal aspect of the case, as they have been assured by eminent New York jurists that the Pretence title is unshakable. They have simply confined themselves by ascertaining the values of the property.
They claim that they are not here to take any undue advantage, or to force a settlement, but will rest on what they think the right and justness of the Pretence claim."

This sort of talk don't go down with the Duluth owners who are tired and sick of hearing of this Pretence bugaboo.
The Tribune talks of eminent New York jurists, said one owner. "Now we are not half so afraid of these New York jurists as Pretence is of the United States lower and supreme courts which have knocked him out time after time. We should think he would want to sell to a syndicate for a few dollars."

After a Supposed Murderer.
The chief of police of Staples, Minn., last night telegraphed Sheriff Sharvy stating that he had arrested a man who answers the description of John Nisk, the supposed murderer of the Finlander, who was killed in a drunken quarrel on Lake Avenue last May. The deed was one of the most brutal ever committed here. Deputy Armstrong has gone to look the man over. Nisk has certain marks on his body which cannot fail to identify him. He will probably return tonight.

Register Nichols says that homesteaders are filing very rapidly on public lands these days. He does not know any special reason for the rush, but thinks that the fear that there will be a forestry reserve proclamation issued may have something bearing on the matter.

The Northwestern Benevolent society, which was organized on Dec. 14 by Judson T. Gardner, who is secretary, and

FORESTRY PETITIONS.

They are Flocking Into Duluth in a Numerous Way From All the North Part of the State.

Also the President Being Bordered Direct by Many Prominent Individuals and Towns in this Section.

Minnesota is at Last Apparently Aroused Over the Reserve Scheme of the Demands.

It appears that at last Minnesota is thoroughly united and aroused. The action of the National Forestry association combined with the prompt resultant action of Duluth has done it and the chamber of commerce is flooded with petitions to the President against the forestry reserve scheme. Besides the petitions sent here the chamber is being notified of many others that have gone direct to Washington, where there are ultimately to be forwarded.

Almost every town in the northwestern part of the state has taken formal action, a dozen petitions have been received from them. Mankato has a lengthy paper St. Paul and Minneapolis and neighboring cities have resolved, and way off in the south end of the state Winona has sent a long petition. Superior joins in the movement, and every place north and northwest of Duluth has done the same with vim.

Individual telegrams and petitions to the President and to congressmen all over the country are being sent forward.
The congressmen being addressed by old personal friends who ask them to talk the President against the scheme.

IN THE RESERVE.
A Grand Rapids Man Talks of the Agricultural and Rail Developments.

Geo. L. Canfield, one of Grand Rapids hustlers talks as follows of the proposed park reserve, showing why Duluth as well as Itasca county and Grand Rapids should oppose the scheme bitterly:

"Our position is not wholly a selfish one, but aimed to be as much as possible for the general good of the state, to wit: If the purpose is to carve out a region that shall fence us out from all development and all the benefits of settlement, then we are opposed. In this view we regard not only our own losses, but the loss to the state, including, especially its school fund, Itasca county has an area equal to some whole states of the East and this cuts us down to less than a good-sized county in the order of parts of the state. Our chief industry now is lumbering, with the products of agricultural lands, which abound and are just beginning to develop, and in mineral products. Destroy the first named, and stop the latter and the hardy pioneers who are doing great service in state development must withdraw.

We look at Michigan and at Wisconsin, where agriculture and rich farms have succeeded the cutting off of the timber; and Northern Minnesota today is just beginning to see the same development. The state at large ought to note that the proposal takes away one-seventh of its entire area."

"The difficulty is this. The keynote of the Forestry association is that 'the lands within these reservations are not fit for agriculture.' We know that the lands are fit and that richer lands do not lie out of doors. If there can be a full investigation and report this time, we will show, and if it is not true that this scheme has been prepared in the interest of the large timber owners, the people are distressed because the park scheme follows so closely upon the failure of the large timber owners to get compensation for the land they have lost. It is not true

FORAKER FIGHTS

He is Busy With the Boys at Columbus and Hopes to Defeat the Brother of Tennessee.

In His Fervor he Jumps on the Administration and the Federal Forces Against Him.

Sherman is Also There Working for What He's Worth and the General Opinion is He'll Win.

New York, Jan. 2.—The Herald's Columbus, Ohio, dispatch says that ex-Governor Foraker created quite a sensation last night by making a speech criticizing the administration for interference in the senatorial contest now going on in that state. The speech referred to as follows:

"Somebody said about three months ago that he would not scramble for reelection. It's my impression that he has changed his mind about it. At least that is indicated by the presence in this city tonight, not only of all the representatives by appointment that hold office within the borders of our state, but all who can be connected with the confines of the United States. We have in this fight to contend upon our side against everything, as I once said before, from grandfathers' hats to baby McKee, but against all we should win the fight. I know whereof I speak and I hesitate not to make that prediction without any qualification whatsoever. We did not seek this fight, but when it was thrust upon us we did not hesitate to accept the challenge. I do not know who the next standard bearer may be. Our present president has given the people administration, but if the people of Ohio should take a notion that James G. Blaine should be the nominee, we will try and accept that too; and if Blaine should be named we will triumphantly elect him, and when he shall have been elected we will have in the White House the greatest of all living Americans."

The ex-governor's speech was frequently interrupted by cheers. At 2 p. m. today the senate and house caucuses for organization will be held and the house caucus is expected to indicate very reliably the strength of the senatorial candidates. The Sherman men will vote for Laylin for speaker and nearly all the Foraker men for McGrew. Dicks, of Cincinnati, concerning whose senatorial preferences there is doubt, will probably vote for speaker for McGrew, and for Foster in the senatorial caucus. Welch, of Knox county, will vote for McKinley for senator on the first ballot. He will probably go to Foraker on the second ballot, while Dicks will probably go to Sherman.

The Foraker men are growing very vindictive in their fight and are particularly vigorous in their denunciations of Senator Sherman's course in filling the city with his federal appointees to work for him. There does not seem to be any change in the situation on the part of the several declarations of senatorial preferences are made, but they were entirely unnecessary, as the members declaring have been correctly listed for weeks. The general feeling here seems to be outside the Foraker headquarters and with disinterested spectators, that the Sherman men are on "easy street" and that there is little doubt about the senatorial re-election. The senate caucus will probably be held next Wednesday. At noon Spencer, of Cuyahoga, declared for Sherman, leaving only Putney and Porter of that delegation to be claimed by Foraker.

Columbus, 2:30 p. m.—Dougherty, of Fayette county, a man who has been favorable to Foraker, has been chosen chairman of the house caucus.

3 p. m.—Mr. Halcove presented the name of Laylin, the Sherman candidate for speaker, and Mr. Griffin, of Toledo, that of Mr. McGrew, the Foraker candidate. First ballot: Laylin nominated, 38 votes; McGrew, 34.

Lampson elected president pro tem of senate by acclamation.

The Confiscation Mayor Dead.

CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—Roswell B. Mason, who was mayor of Chicago during the fire of 1871, died last night at his home, 27 Delaware place, after a short illness. He was 86 years old and was born in New Hartford, N. Y., coming to Chicago at an early date. He was at one time chief engineer of the Illinois Central road and at another superintendent of the Alton. He was mayor of Chicago from November, 1869, to December, 1871, and was conspicuous for his courage and wisdom during that trouble time.

Reduce the Rate.

VIENNA, Jan. 1.—It was formally announced today over the signature of the minister of commerce, the minister of commerce, that the reduced scale of telegraph rates went into force after midnight throughout Austria. It is hoped that this reduction will be of great benefit to trade and that the loss arising from the reduction will be compensated by an increase in the number of telegrams.

He Took Their Pay.

LOWELL, Mass., Jan. 2.—A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Charles B. Marsh, bookkeeper, at the state almshouse for the embezzlement of $500 from the pay of the officers of that institution. Marsh and his wife are supposed to be in Chicago.

For Penny Postage.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 2.—The merchants of this city are making a vigorous move upon congress to reduce letter postage from two cents to one cent per ounce. Over 1000 letters have been sent to the Missouri delegation congress asking its support to the Cullom bill.

Uncle Sam's Navy.

LONDON, Jan. 2.—The St. James Gazette referring to the improvements made in the United States navy says, that in spite of occasional mistakes, the Americans are making steady and surprising progress towards becoming a great naval power, and that "there is not the smallest doubt of their ability to do so."

A Circus Man Dead.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 2.—James Cooper, the well known circus man who bought the Forepaugh circus and who was formerly a partner of Barnum and Bailey, died yesterday.

A large and full line of blank books. ALBERTSON & CHAMBERLAIN.

THREE POINTS FOR THE COURT.

Decisions of Importance to Tariff Reformers and Lotteries.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—The supreme court of the United States, will hand down soon the decisions on three very important constitutional questions. One of these is whether a speaker has the right to count a quorum, the members being present and refusing to vote. Another is whether congress has the right, as it did in the reciprocity clause of the McKinley bill, to confer power upon the President, and the third is whether congress has the right to prevent the mailing of newspapers because they contain lottery advertisements.

All these are questions of grave importance, because if the speaker did not have the right to count a quorum, half the legislation of the last congress is void, and if President Harrison has not the right to make reciprocity treaties and to repeal the duty on sugar, hides and coffee, as he was authorized to do, the reciprocity clause of the McKinley bill is practically of no value. If congress has the right to say that a newspaper being a member of congress may not pass through the mails, it may claim the right to say that one of the chief advertisements shall not pass through it, likewise a patent medicine advertisement.

SCABS HAVE TO SCAMPER.

A Trainload of Non-Union Men Chased Into the Woods.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Jan. 2.—Shortly before noon yesterday the Iron mountain "cannon ball" from St. Louis arrived at the railroad crossing on the northern outskirts of Argenta, the little town on the opposite side of the Arkansas river from the city. The train was two special sleepers containing 68 railroad men, among the number being conductors, brakemen and telegraph operators. They came from St. Louis and were en route to San Antonio, Tex., to fill the places on the San Antonio road made vacant by the strikers. When the train stopped a hundred men jumped aboard and tumbled the scabs out of windows and doors into the mud and chased them to the woods. Their baggage was then cut to pieces. Bloodshed is feared.

ALL POLAND MOURNS.

The Centennial Anniversary of Their Lost Liberties.

WARSAW, Jan. 2.—This year throughout Poland is to be regarded as a year of the deepest mourning. The women of Poland, from the highest to the lowest, from the princess to the peasant woman, will wear nothing but black during 1892. All the large goods firms in Warsaw, Wilna, Lemberg and Cracow have sent back to Vienna and other cities, all the goods they had in stock and have received black materials instead. Bonnets, gloves, dresses, furs and jewelry, all are to be black. Thus will the Poles commemorate the year of 1792, when they lost their independence.

An English Embezzler.

LONDON, Jan. 2.—Mr. George Wood-vall, a partner in a firm of engineers in East Worcesterhire, who was arrested recently upon the charge of embezzling large sums of money from the estate of the late Major Brown, of which he was the only surviving trustee, was formally charged with this offense at the Bow street police court. After the particulars of the embezzlement had been given by counsel for the prosecutors, Mr. Hastings was again remanded.

London's Health Department.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—Strange reports from London have never had a public health department until now. An act creating such a department went into force yesterday. Up to this time the medical officer had to cope as best he could with the work arising from the housing and other sanitary acts of the London council. But a clamor for a more efficient administration of these acts arose and then the public health department, with the medical officer at its head, was created.

To Investigate the Baltimore Affair.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—The Recorder's Washington correspondent says that Judge Advocate General Kenney, of the navy, has been ordered to go secretly to San Francisco to conduct an investigation into the assault upon the Baltimore seamen. Col. Kenney left Washington last Wednesday, and all information as to his whereabouts is refused at the navy department.

Slavin Will Raise the Money.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—Frank P. Slavin yesterday sent a cablegram to John Dougherty, his Australian backer, informing him of Pesse's backdown and warning him to get out of the country. Slavin offered $10,000 to ensure a fight with John L. Sullivan. In an interview Slavin expresses himself as a man who never gets into a fight with Sullivan and declaring that should Dougherty's answer prove unfavorable he could and would find backing elsewhere.

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS.

Governor Roswell P. Flower was yesterday inaugurated governor of New York.

Governor Humphrey, of Kansas, yesterday appointed ex-congressman Perkins, of Oswego, to succeed Plumb.

The mother of Charles Stewart Parrell yesterday placed on his grave a floral wreath bearing the words, "May the principle for which he died freshly revive with the new year and live forever."

Dr. Frank Powell, of St. Paul, was shot at by some one in the street as he was retiring last night. The bullet barely missed him and Mrs. Powell.

Capt. Bourke's command in Texas is thought to be in a critical condition. Tennessee is still having trouble because of convict labor in the mines, and has sent militia to defend the men.

The Chinese rebels are still committing depredations throughout the country. A report was current in Montreal last night that the pope had been assassinated.

Governor Boies is very ill with grip.

The Lucky Number.

The watch given away by Huberg Bros., jewelers, 183 1/2 Superior street, was drawn and delivered to me on New Year's day at 12 o'clock. I held No. 204 which proved to be the lucky one. The watch received was one of the best filled cases, warranted 20 years with a full jeweled Elgin movement. I consider it well worth the price advanced, and cheerfully recommend the above firm to be thorough business men, honest and reliable, who will always do just what they say.

LOUIS MULLEN, Twentyfourth avenue and Tenth street west.

CHILEAN DISPUTE

Now Looks as if Both Nations Would Patch Matters up in a Peaceful Way.

The British Ambassador Has Urged Chile to do the Fair Thing by the States.

The German Minister Has Offered to Arbitrate the Matter, and the War Cloud Blows Away.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—The Herald's Santiago correspondent says that the new cabinet is generally approved by the press and people of Chile. There was some reluctance on the part of some of the members to accept office, because of the exact situation of affairs between the United States and Chile was not known. If an amicable agreement can be made whereby Chile would not be humiliated, there is a disposition on the part of the new government to come to terms with the United States.

The note sent by Minister of Foreign Affairs Matta to the Washington office of the mail carrier such offense may be withdrawn. It is stated that President Montt has been advised to withdraw this note, and the question will be taken up by the Chilean cabinet at an early date. It is said that Kennedy has been acting under instructions from his government, British Minister Presbly has been advising President Montt's government to make reasonable terms with the United States. The German minister, Herr Gutschmidt, has offered the services of his government as arbitrator between the two countries, but it is not thought that the proposition will be entertained, owing to the continued insults to our legation.

The mail officer of the United States cruiser Yorktown came ashore on Dec. 29 to pay for a cablegram and has not been heard of from since. The police are actively searching for him.

FIGHTING ON THE RIO GRANDE.

Gen. Stanley Telegraphs Washington the Present Situation.

SAN ANTONIO, TEX., Jan. 2.—The following dispatch was sent to Gen. Schofield by Gen. Stanley last night.

Capt. Hardie, of the Third cavalry, reports that he struck a camp of about 200 of Garza's followers on the 29th inst. at sundown in a dense chaparral, near Capt. Brock's company. The camp was of Garza's men and troops were with him, as were also Capt. Bourke and his company. The camp was surrounded by Garza's men, but will not say he was fighting United States troops. He says Garza had two men killed and two wounded. The artillery is in Mexico. Two men in Garza's band are reported wounded in the battle at Retina. Hardie is pressing the revolutionists very hard. They are very broken, but are making together in small squads and continue their depredations.

Crisis is Better.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—Speaker Crisp is much improved today. His fever has been broken, but he is very weak.

CITY BRIEFS.

Tonight is booked as the coldest of the season thus far.

City treasurer Voss and family have returned from a visit east.

W. M. Bell, manager for W. A. Edwards, is in Minneapolis and returns Monday.

In municipal court this morning the business consisted of sending up three drunks and one vag. Another vag was let off on the promise that he would go to work or leave Duluth.

Mr. Hugh H. Wilson, of engine company No. 1, was united in marriage last evening to Miss Ida M. Randall, at the residence of Rev. Dr. Ringland. The wedding was a quiet one, only a few friends being in attendance. The happy couple take up home life at No. 24 East Second street.

The Cambridge, Minneapolis & Duluth railway has been incorporated in Minnesota with a capital stock of $500,000. The following are the officers: H. F. Barker, president; D. O. Anderson vice president; C. W. Van Winkle, secretary; O. A. Hallis, treasurer.

W. M. McComber and Louis Roucheau recently purchased 52 acres of mineral land on the Mesaba in 1891, and last week Mr. McComber and associates made another purchase of nearly 2,000 acres in 1891. These were outright purchases, the former being from H. R. Higgins, of Minneapolis.

J. W. Marvin has purchased the interest of A. K. Ridgely in the books and plant of the Duluth Abstract of Title company. W. G. McMahon will be the future manager of the abstract business for the company. Mr. McMahon is an old and experienced abstractor and his ability in his line is well known to the people of St. Louis county.

A Splendid Record.

At the fire commissioners meeting this afternoon, Chief Smith will present his monthly report, some new hose will be ordered and the fire tug question will be discussed. Chief Smith's reports but the fire in December, with a total loss of $125. His record for the 10 months of the fiscal year to date is a superb one, and reflects great credit on himself, the department and the city. It shows 45 fires; total loss, $139,320; value of property attacked, $9,599,570; insurance on same, $416,600. It is doubted if any city the size and general character of Duluth can show so good a record.

Died.

CROSBY.—Bertha D., wife of A. T. Crosby and daughter of L. A. and Mary E. Holding, Northampton, Mass. Funeral at residence, No. 3 Chester street, at 2 p. m. 10 o'clock Monday, Jan. 4. Friends are invited.

Well Pleased.

Our best expectations were realized this Christmas, and with many thanks for past favors, we recommend ourselves to the public for strictly reliable goods and lowest prices. — GEIST, Jeweler.

THAT LUMBER RATE.

The Men in the Trade are Still Anxiously Looking For It.

Two weeks ago both morning papers asserted that the lumber rate between Duluth and the Southwest had been made equal to the Chicago rate to the same points, or in other words that a cut of seven cents had been made in the Duluth rate. The Herald, on the authority of the first assistant general freight agent of the Omaha road and of others, local general agents, was forced to deny the report much as it desired to corroborate it. The next day the News said:

The statement published in this paper yesterday that in future Duluth is to pay no more than the Twin Cities on lumber destined for common Southwestern points, was verified yesterday. Local agents of the roads do not know anything about the decision for the official circular has not been issued, but it will be issued in time and then the paper which previously mentioned everything on earth will learn all about it.

Two weeks have passed since then and lumbermen and railway men are anxiously waiting for fuller information. The rate remains the same as it was and bids fair to do so for many moons. The News said the Brainard rate on the Northern Pacific had already been changed. This is no truer than the other statement. The Chicago discrimination amounts to seven cents a hundred or $1.50 a thousand. Duluth's rate is twenty-four cents a hundred to Omaha and Chicago's seventeen, in spite of the fact that Duluth is 100 miles nearer. The lumbermen at the head of the lakes and in Chippewa valley assert that they would undersell every mill on the Mississippi if the 8-cent discrimination were removed.

ESCAPED INSTANT DEATH.

A Six Year Old Child Falls From a High Building and Lives.

Late Friday afternoon George Kriest, the grandson of Mrs. S. B. White, of Pastore building fame, met with a severe accident from the effect of which it will be a miracle if he does not die. Leaning too far out of a window in the sixth story of the Pastore-Stenson building, he lost his balance and fell to the ground below. Both legs were broken and some injury done to the child's back. The only wonder is that he was not instantly killed. About a year ago the child's mother was killed in an accident. His father lives in St. Louis.

Today the child is worse and he will probably not recover, though the doctors think there is some hope. If he does recover he will be a life long cripple or worse.

THE ANDREWS OPERA COMPANY.

It Will Open a Week's Engagement at the Temple Monday.

Minneapolis Tribune: The Andrews Opera, which has just closed the second week of their engagement at the Lyceum theater, has met with the same phenomenal success as during their first week. They opened the week with Chassaigne's masterpiece, "Falala," giving this opera Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, and Wednesday matinee, and produced "Fra Diavolo" the remainder of the week, giving in each instance a magnificent rendition of these operas. The company is an exceptionally even and well balanced organization, splendidly drilled and gorgeously costumed. It has been an agreeable surprise to the patrons of the Lyceum, as the company made only modest pretensions. One feature of this organization is that they are equally good in both grand and comic opera, as shown by their work during the past two weeks. At Temple Opera one week, beginning Monday night.

The Weather.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN., Jan. 2.— A storm of great energy is central over the lower lakes and over the rest of the country generally fair weather prevails, with cold weather, the temperature ranging from 20 to 35 below zero Iowa, Minnesota, Dakota, Nebraska and Kansas being followed by an area of low pressure with a comparative high temperature.

The warmest place this morning is Buffalo 45, the coldest 35 below zero.
Continued fair cold weather with slowly increasing temperature tomorrow afternoon can be expected.

The highest temperature here yesterday was 35, the lowest 25 below zero. The night will probably be the coldest night so far of the season.

DULUTH, Jan. 2.—Local forecast for Duluth and vicinity for twenty-four hours ending at 8 a. m. Jan. 3: Fair, cold.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—For Wisconsin: Clearing; Monday; Wednesday Sunday variable winds.

THE SCRAP WITH CHILE.

Our government while making some little fuss and giving cause for considerable talk, has never had much of a case in the Chilean matter, and the war cloud that some have seen was nothing more than vapor from the smoking rooms of army and navy circles.

In a time when the Chilean blood was hot with a bitter war and the government was in a very chaotic condition, a body of our marines went ashore from the United States ship Baltimore whose officers were charged with giving Balboa information against the revolutionists which endangered their liberties and in the battle that ensued caused the loss of a thousand men. Under such conditions it is not surprising that the Balboa men were not very cordially received, and it would seem rather foolhardy for them to go ashore, as it seems probable, they indulged in drink and made merry, perhaps became boisterous, it would be surprising indeed if they got away without an exchange of insults and the loss of life. Had a crowd of foreign marines landed anywhere in the North in the spring of '95 and expressed, or been suspected of entertaining, sympathy with Jeff Davis, their lives would have been of little value.
Had it been known or rumored that they had given information to prevent the capture of Richmond, they would have been mobbed without ceremony.

Such seems a fair presentation of the case between these two republics. The Chileans were hot and chaffing under suspected wrongs, while our men were somewhat reckless and perhaps intoxicated. To go to war and kill some more would not bring the dead to life nor heal the wounds of the survivors.

The whole matter can be settled by arbitration if not directly through the diplomatic representatives of the two countries. Bloodletting is talked of only by officers who have laurels to gain or politicians who have votes to get.

Judge C. S. Palmer, of Sioux Falls, South Dakota, formerly of the supreme bench of the territory who is the attorney for Mrs. James G. Blaine Jr., in her suit for divorce, expresses the belief that family pride will prevent Secretary Blaine from becoming a presidential candidate next June. Mr. Blaine is very sensitive to these domestic scandals, and rather than face the vulgar assaults of such a campaign, he is believed he would forego the presidency. Mrs.
Blaine Sr. has generally been held responsible for her son deserting his young wife, and though much may be overlooked on the ground of maternal affection, yet innumerable repetitions of the story in an exaggerated form, cannot be at all soothing to sensitive ears.

The Plumed Knight has been somewhat unfortunate in this respect, and like all men in high position has paid dearly for what in humbler classes would pass unnoticed. In this way an equilibrium of happiness is established, and greatness would oftentimes be glad to obscure itself.

The proposition before the people of Louisiana in the approaching election is to charter the state lottery for twenty-five years from Jan. 1, 1894, by adopting an amendment to the constitution submitted by the last legislature. Under the conditions of the proposed charter the lottery is to pay the state $1,250,000 a year for its monopoly and franchise and although the opposition is developing formidable strength, the bait thus held out is very tempting. The outcome of a victory for the lottery will be to place the state in the hands of a band of robbers whose depredations under cover of law are no more honorable and far less chivalric than deeds of piracy on the sea.

The mere act of paying a dollar, and taking a chance is a rather innocent form of wickedness which the most rigid moralist may in some unsuspected way indulge, but when a state is placed in the clutches of those who reap the millions that come in as a sort of delusion fund, the demoralization of the people through such a fountain of corruption is something most appalling and renders them unfit for self government.

Brainier people, through Mayor Hagberg, of that city have telegraphed the President their protest against the proposed national park reservation. All communities and commercial bodies are falling in line, while the St. Paul Pioneer is deserving of special praise for the earnest manner in which it has espoused the cause of Northern Minnesota. The President in accordance with the necessary custom in all such cases, has referred the matter to the commissioner of the land office, ex-Congressman Thomas Carter of Montana, and our people can rest assured that Mr. Carter is too familiar with the West to recommend any such disaster. Besides, it must also be approved by the secretary of the interior before it reaches the President, and even then it could be needed off. Keep cool. There will be no such reserve.

Minneapolis makes a fine showing in wheat receipts for the calendar year just closed, the figures being 57,477,465 bushels without the last day of December. In this, because of her vast mills and the fact that the railway discrimination against Duluth continued until three months ago, she exceeds our figures for 18,000,000. But with the rapid building of mills at the head of the lakes and the new railroad deal, all this will soon be changed, probably within the present season. Duluth, however, has so many resources that the grain business, so vital to Minneapolis, is only an incident to us. Nevertheless, while congratulating our sister on her remarkable achievement we are at the same time looking out for incidents of this kind and Minnie must look out for her laurels or we'll grind 'em to pieces.

W. D. Evans, who has been an industrious and painstaking newsgatherer for The Herald during the past year, transfers himself today to the staff of the Evening Telegram at Superior, bearing with him the esteem and best wishes of his Herald associates, while Earl Crawford, formerly with the Times and Tribune here, but now with the Superior Telegram, will on Monday begin revealing in the social and business circles of Duluth in the interests of the local news columns of The Herald. The spirit of reciprocity seems to be in the air, and the towns at the head of the lake could hardly do less than to give this mild expression of approval. The cordial relations between The Herald and Telegram are unimpaired, and the new year starts off with heartfelt greetings and more than the usual output of brotherly affection.

Our morning contemporary, the Tribune, errs in supposing that improvement on Fourth avenue west in West Duluth came under the jurisdiction of the Duluth city council. West Duluth is, and for two years yet will remain, a separate municipality. The improvements of Fourth avenue in that village, therefore, in no way conflicts with the improvement of Lake avenue in this city.

The tunneling of the track at West Duluth is one of the things likely to be done in time, and perhaps the present season, but it is not generally thought that the proposed Fourth avenue improvements, rock cuts and all, are immediately essential.

Governor Humphrey of Kansas has chosen well in naming ex-Congressman Bishop W. Perkins of Oswego, Kan., as his successor. Senator Plumb, Mr. Perkins served in the Forty-eighth, Forty-ninth, Fiftieth and Fifty-first congresses, and is well qualified to put on the senatorial toga and go forward with the work which Plumb had been vigorously pushing in the interests of the Kansas people. The governor was warmly besieged by the supporters of different candidates, and the impression was abroad that Hudson of the Topeka Capital would get the appointment, but no one seems to have suggested the name of Ingalls. Who is Ingalls, anyway?

The democratic Ohio will reflect credit upon themselves and perform a patriotic duty in dictating the choice of John Sherman over Foraker as senator from that state. Foraker, with all his faults, possesses some worthy qualities, and is superior to several men already in senate, but these inferiors were not chosen from states that had any John Shermans in them. He must go.
West if he wants to grow up with the country. Some senatorial greatness is wholly geographical.

The Minneapolis Times has this pleasant word to say: "Ex-Senator Tom Bowen has retired from the editorship of the Duluth News. Here is the hope that he will take hold somewhere else. He is too good a man to lose to journalism."

The Minneapolis Times issued yesterday a very excellent annual edition, recounting the glories of the convention city. The Times, like its town, is up in the morning. But Duluth never sleeps.

The Chicago Herald issued a tower of Babel edition in all languages on New Year's day. The Herald is a great paper and it speaks in many tongues.

We ARE pleased to note that our neighbor, the News, is running Royal baking powder in its editorial columns, probably for the purpose of raising the republican standard.

Our friend, the Tribune, mixes its editorials with Price's Extracts, in that way adding a flavor they would not otherwise possess.

Governor Flower, it is charged, hails from the hot bed of corruption. He will probably have his office in the state house conservatory.

New York has her Flower, Jersey has her Lily, and Illinois must look out for Spriener's tomatoes.

When you want a Sunday drink you have to give tip for tap.

Now the merchants will make their mark-on

BOUZZA FARMING.

How a Great Ranch is Run; Men Needed for Spring Plowing.
(Minneapolis Times.)

Col. R. F. Pickett, of Pickett, N. D., is the Nicollet. Mr. Pickett was colonel of a New York regiment during the war of the rebellion. His family still resides in New York city, but during the summer season Mr. Pickett stops upon his bouzza farm in Steele county, near the fertile counties of the Red River valley. His farm consists of 12-000 acres of land, upon which he raised this year 120,000 bushels of wheat.

During the threshing season he employed 200 men, and to board them, among other articles he used daily one barrel of salt pork, one barrel of beef, two pounds of flour, one barrel of ginger crackers, 100 pounds granulated sugar, 100 pounds coffee, 50 pounds dried beef and 50 pounds of plug tobacco.

His wheat this year averaged 33 bushels to the acre, the largest yield he has ever had, though he says he never had more than 11 bushels to the acre. He purchased a section of land in 1886, paying for it $500, and in 1887 the crop yielded $750; in 1888, $850; in 1889, $700; in 1890, $650; this year's crop only 41 carloads have yet been sent out.

Col. Pickett says there has been no fall plowing done in his section, as has usually been the custom, so that a very large amount of work will have to be done next spring, and to do the necessary extra work, he has hired 100 more men will be required in Steele county.

He had a conference with President James J. Hill, the Great Northern, yesterday, relative to making rates for workmen to go to North Dakota the same as the rates for the railroad. He has heretofore only made rates in the spring, but if they do not make them next fall and get in men to do the work there will be no crop, and the railroad companies to haul out in the fall, he says, President Hill promised himself to make the rates in the fall fair thing. Col. Pickett is quite proud in his praise of the Great Northern and the Northern Pacific for the work they did this fall in aid of the harvesting of the immense crop, and he predicts they will see it is for their interest to give rates in the spring.

Col. Pickett is now on his way to New York city, where he will spend the winter with his family.
He belongs to the farmers' alliance, but upon being questioned as to the value of the organization, he said he thought it was not growing, and doubted whether it was holding its own. He predicts a immigration to North Dakota next season and a renewal of the old time prosperity.

G. E. FLEW'S Opinion.

(Minneapolis Tribune.)
Hill is the man for the democrats.
There is no person in the democratic ranks who represents so well the objects and aims of the party.

He isn't a free trader, but he will be if party success and, above all, personal success depends upon it.

He isn't a fiat moneyist, but he will consent to issue shipplasters based on nothing but wind if that will carry him to the presidency.

He isn't personally dishonest, but he will steal states or electors if necessary to win.

His position on the silver question is plain and unmistakable.

He believes in free coinage, so modified as to give the mine owners all they want, the gold bugs all they desire, the people all they need and the devil everything.

He can dive deeper, stay under longer, come up nearer and appear cleaner than any man on the continent.

Cleveland hates him, Gorman courts him, Cress fears him.

He holds the Democratic party up by the tail, so to speak, and if it squeals he will give it a capital appendage another twice its natural size.

He isn't a statesman, he isn't a scholar; he has mighty hard work to pass for a gentleman, but he is the roaring giastious of the Democratic party, and don't you forget it.

Republicans will make a mistake if they try to keep him out of his seat in the senate. It is the only place where some of the conceit can be knocked out of him and where his rampant egotism with other Democratic leaders his real message can be taken.

If Castile or Morgan or Voorhees take a notion they will make him long for the shades of Albany.

FINANCE OUTLOOK.

Henry Clews Sees Much to Encourage Our People in the Financial Situation.

A Reaction From Wild and Bottomless Schemes to Legitimate Investments.

Effect of International Free Coinage Which the Condition of Europe Makes Probable.

New York, Jan. 4.—Henry Clews in the Financial Review says: The year 1892 opens with promising material prospects for the United States, and yet with some legacies of misfortune from 1891 which are calculated to qualify our hopes. If the past year has been one of unprecedented harvests and, as such, has conferred inestimable benefits upon our long depressed agricultural interest, it has also been one of check, reaction and dullness to most of our manufacturing industries. Constituting as we do an inseparable part of the community of nations, it has been impossible for us to wholly escape the effects of the European harings. That great failure was but the culmination, in the case of a single house, of a system of wild adventure and loose financing which had infected every money centre of the world, and had brought Europe to the verge of a financial upheaval exceeding in gravity anything in the world's previous experience. The consequence of this has been a decline of 40 to 50 per cent in the market value of most of the corporate issues put out within the last ten years.

Future Legitimate Investments. It hardly needs to be asked—what must be the effect upon credit, industry, commerce and investment of such a vast collapse in the value of securities? The present depression among all European results; the paralysis is destined to continue for months and possibly years to come. The question, however, is worth the asking—how comes it to pass that such an immense proportion of the world's accumulated savings has been diverted into unproductive investments? The importance of the question is equal to the difficulty of answering it. The facts seem to suggest a twofold explanation, that for some time past the earnings of business have exceeded the opportunities for profitably re-employing them in legitimate undertakings. That is very much like saying that the wealth of the world is growing faster than its wants, and faster than the resources for employing that wealth. Such a condition is not an impossibility; and the condition is suggestive of material prolongation; but it must sooner or later work out social readjustments which will extend the range of the community's wants and the new and enlarged employments for accumulated wealth. But, for a time, the condition of things here supposed would mean reduced earnings upon European capital and an era of lower rates of interest upon American investments. The sort of reaction here indicated would induce among European lenders a preference for investments in young countries, which, while able to pay full rates of interest, are yet teeming with sources of safe and remunerative employment for capital. If this suggestion be well founded, it implies that the present reaction is destined to result in a future increased demand for American securities; and especially so, if those of our financial houses who launch our new enterprises, and who are endeavoring to forward merely to the next twelve months, there seems to be little reason to expect any important European demand for our securities; for the reason that business there is not likely to yield the usual amount of profits for reinvestment. European private concerns, too, are fraught with dangers that are calculated to keep enterprise in check.

Effect of Free Silver Coinage. There is, however, one possible contingency which, should it arise, would very materially modify all the probabilities above considered. If we may give full credit to what is reported from Washington as to the government's advances from its agents deputed to ascertain the feasibility of assembling a congress to re-establish the gold standard on an international basis—there is a very unexpected disposition, amounting almost to anxiety, on the part of European governments, including England, to consider such proposals; and the overtures openly made by Chancellor Gosenchen certainly give not a little credence to these reports. Should it turn out, within the next few months, that the principal nations are willing to bind themselves, along with the United States, to coin silver without limit as to amount, at the ratio of 15 to 1, and to constitute such a coin a tender equally with gold, the effect would be to place the now sensitive national banks of Europe upon a broader footing of available reserves, to infuse new confidence into all the financial centers, and to substitute, for the distrust caused by the half the world's metallic money being now unavailable for international use, buoyancy that would naturally follow the restoration of silver to its old time universal availability. We are inclined to regard this contingency as being sufficiently probable to warrant its being, hopefully taken. Should it be realized, a dark shadow would be lifted from which there is now a distinct discrimination, especially abroad, as being possibly payable in silver.

So far as respects the prospects arising from purely domestic conditions, they are almost without exception favorable to the value of stocks. The abundant crops can hardly fail to produce a better state of trade than existed through 1891. The earnings of the railroads, net as well as gross, show a marked improvement, and the continued issue of surplus of the bank reserves, the promise of a fairly considerable return of gold from Europe, and the continued issue of over 4,500,000 of silver currency per month, have a combined tendency to produce an abundance of money and low rates of interest; which would strongly favor an improvement in the market value of stocks and bonds alike, and conduce to activity in speculation.

A BIG CHICAGO STEAL.

Nearly Half a Million Raised to Crush Anarchists Has Vanished.

CHICAGO, Jan. 4.—The Herald this morning prints a long interview, said to be with a prominent citizen, who says an association of business men was formed, soon after the Haymarket riot, to crush out anarchy in Chicago. From $50,000 to $100,000 annually have since been raised, and it is charged that the recent raid on Grief's hall was to stimulate subscriptions. The report of the finance committee shows that $425,000 have been raised and that somebody has grown rich out of it. The police, it is charged, have made much fuss about the raids to get more blood.

Bombs Bursting in Air.

St. Louis, Jan. 4.—A report like the roar of artillery shook the business portion of St. Louis at 6:45 this morning. Window sashes rattled, panes of glass cracked as if there were an earthquake and numerous citizens were routed out of their morning nap. The thunders emanated from the rear of 301 South Miller, or, rather, the bakery of H. J. Treca, the Italian under sentence of death by electricity in New York, would be done in the matter until further advice from the state department. The telegram was in response to one sent by Blaine asking for a reprieve pending an investigation into the Treca case. It was said to be an Italian citizen, and the reprieve was asked by the Italian government through the Marquis Imperiali, its representative here.

THE OHIO BATTLE.

The Senatorial Fight in the Buckeye State the Absorbing Topic of the Nation.

Foraker's Forces Estimated at Forty-five, While Forty-seven Are Needed to Elect.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Jan. 4.—

The leaders of the senatorial contest generally observed the Sabbath yesterday and both the Sherman and Foraker headquarters at the Neil house were practically deserted. The only feature that developed in the contest during the day was the publication by Senator Parker, of Cuyahoga, of a statement to the public that he proposed to vote for Foraker for senator. He had, however, been placed in all the lists previously made with the Foraker forces, so the announcement is insignificant.

The Foraker men are persistent in claiming that the vote for speaker in the house organization caucus Saturday is no reliable indication of how the members of the house will vote in the senatorial caucus. While they admit that that fight was mainly along senatorial lines, they claim a number of members who are pledged to vote for Foraker for senator, were pledged to vote for Laylin for speaker long before the two contests fell into the same groove. Senator Sherman while claiming that the speakership contest result removed all doubt of his election from the speakership contest, personal friendship grounds. The Foraker men claim, however, that not a single Sherman man voted for McGowan, while at least five anti-Sherman men, including Dick, of Cincinnati, who will vote for Foster for senator and Welch, of Knox county, who will vote for McKinley, cast their ballots for Laylin.

While the speakership caucus was an open one, the ballot on the question of a secret one, so no one knows how any member voted, except by his own confession. The Foraker men are right, of course Sherman's strength in the house is at least six votes less than the Foraker strength. Sherman will have 13 votes in the senate if Dick is contestant, who will undoubtedly be seated, is given a vote. Foraker claims eight votes in the senate, but there is no ground for the claim. A careful estimate places Foraker's strength at 38 in the house and 7 in the senate—total 45. If Dick were deprived of his vote in the senate Sherman's strength would be 41. Dick and Welch and the anti-Sherman men, including Dick, of Cincinnati, who will vote for Foster for senator and Welch, of Knox county, who will vote for McKinley, cast their ballots for Laylin.

Several Burned to Death. SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 4.—Elmer S. Hoffer, of Chester, N. H.; F. T. Tucker, of Sacramento, Cal.; and J. W. Ford, were burned to death yesterday at their boarding house at San Francisco, Cal. The fire was caused by a gas stove, and the following gentlemen who have not had places in the directorate were added: J. B. Howard, H. W. Coffin and Austin Mendenhall. A meeting of the directors was held this afternoon and the old officers of the company were elected.

He's Now in the Woods.

Jos. Butchart, for whom a warrant was issued on Saturday by Judge Ensign, by which he was restrained from leaving the state, was before the court this morning before Judge Ensign. The warrant was rescinded. The ground for acquittal was a technical defect in the affidavit on which it was issued. Mr. Butchart left this morning for a somewhat extended visit in the woods of Wisconsin.

A Slow Assignment.

The shoe store of M. A. Phillips, was closed today under assignment to Fred H. Quinby. The debts are about $5,200, and the assets $4,000. The action of M. B. Cox & Co., shoemen of New York, who are among the smallest creditors, precipitated the failure. It is very much to be regretted as the firm has done a clean, honorable business.

CITY BRIEFS.

A movement is on foot among the Scotchmen of Two Harbors to organize a clan of the Scottish clans in that village.

The county commissioners expect to make extensive improvements in the county road leading westward from the Mesaba station.

Little George Kriest, who fell from the Pastore building New Year's day, is still alive. His father arrived Sunday from St. Louis and the little fellow recognized him very quickly.

The Snow Storm.

The storm of yesterday must have been largely imaginary, as the report of the United States weather office would seem to indicate. There was only three inches of snow, not so much as fell at a former date, and no wind to speak of. The storm, however, here was much heavier than at any neighboring point. In the Northwest it has been followed by great cold. Here the storm, while it inconvenienced them some, was not enough even to have blocked street car traffic.

Clan Stewart's Election of Officers.

Wednesday Clan Stewart will install the office bearers appointed at the December meeting, and a new departure from the regular style will be inaugurated—the ceremony to be open to clansmen, their families and lady friends, and will be followed by a social and as there is no charge for admission there is no doubt there will be a large turnout and a general good time had.

Fatal Fire in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Jan. 4.—At 2 o'clock this morning fire was discovered in the restaurant under the Waverly hotel, 262 Clark street. The house was at once filled with smoke and the occupants of the rooms rushed into the hallways and attempted to reach the lower floor. As a result of the fire two persons were killed: John Meredith, 65 years old, residence unknown, suffocated; Paul Wood, 17 years old, son of Samuel F. Wood, suffocated. The injured are: Mrs. S. F. Wood, right leg broken and injured internally, will probably die; Samuel F. Wood, badly bruised and partly suffocated; will recover; Mrs. Edward C. Dwyer, overcome by fright and smoke; not serious; J. R. Clay, overcome by heat; Mrs. J. E. Smith, overcome by smoke; N. Frank, slightly injured about the shoulders by falling.

Ohio Legislature Meets.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Jan. 4.—Both branches of the general assembly were called to order at 10 o'clock this morning and the organization outlined in the republican caucus of Saturday effected seat either Elder or Cramer, the contesting claimants of the seat of the Muskingum district, but appointed a committee to investigate the matter. The governor's message, which is the shortest on record, was received and read. It renews the recommendations made a year ago.

Nebraska Case Not Reached.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—The supreme court did not announce a decision in the Nebraska governorship case today. The statement that the court had decided in favor of Boyd by a vote of 6 to 3 is incorrect as only eight justices were present when the argument was heard, Justice Bradley being absent on account of illness.

Garza Hemmed In.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Jan. 4.—A dispatch from Laredo received this morning says: "United States soldiers and Mexican rangers and soldiers are reported to have Garza surrounded in the northwestern part of Zapata county. This is the case Garza is hemmed in on all sides and it will be impossible for him to turn in any direction."

Who Would Live Always?

LONDON, Jan. 4.—The bishop of Litchfield is dying.

IN POLICE COURT.

No Refuge Now Nearer Than West Duluth; the Day's Doings.

Dan Noble, whose looks gave a very direct lie to his name, was the first victim before the police court this morning. Dan has had very hard luck this bright new year. On Friday morning he was requested by the city authorities to take a walk and went to Superior. Saturday morning he turned up in the Superior police court, but was released on condition that he leave town at once. He left and came once more to Duluth. He met his friend Pete Sweeney, better known as "Cuppy," who was just out of jail after a long term, and they spent the day together, both going to jail as usual on Saturday evening.

This morning the judge entered a sentence of ten days against each of them, but allowed them one more chance if they would leave town. They accepted the condition and as West Superior was out of the possibilities, when last seen they were trying to decide whether it would be West Duluth or Tower.

Alex Sutherland, a plain drunk, did not appear and forfeited $14 bail. John Peterson, charged with stealing a cloak from in front of one of the Superior street dry goods houses, was not arraigned but will be probably this afternoon.

The Motor Line.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Motor Line improvement company was held at its office in the First National bank building today and the following directors were re-elected: G. G. Hartley, J. D. Stryker, J. D. Ensign, Jas. Sellwood, A. K. Macfarlane, W. V. Billson, K. W. Hunter, J. A. Willard and the following gentlemen who have not had places in the directorate were added: J. ### SHERMAN TO WIN

The Forces Still Fighting on the Seaside With Sherman Clearly in the Lead Today.

Several Accessions Have Been Made to His Avowed Following, and He Will Win.

Foraker Claiming the Earth and the Fullness Thereof, but the Fates Not With Him.

COLUMBUS, Jan. 5.—The senate has seated itself, the contesting republican in place of Gaumer, democrat, and there will therefore be 63 votes in the republican senatorial caucus tomorrow night. The number of votes necessary to nominate, however, still remains 47. Senator Sherman seems to be gaining strength every hour, but the Foraker men show less confidence in the result than they have shown from the first. Since yesterday Senators Lamson and Rawlins, and Representatives Dunn, McCoy and Lutz have openly announced their intention of voting for Sherman. All of these except Senator Lamson had been classed as Foraker men, though Lutz and Rawlins were marked "doubtful" in the most lists. The Foraker men claim that seven men who voted for Laylin for speaker will vote for Foraker for senator. Laylin's vote for speaker was 38. If the Foraker claims are correct this will reduce the Sherman strength in the house to 31 votes, and raise the Foraker strength to 41 votes in that branch. There is no uncertainty now as to how the senators will vote in the United States senatorial caucus. There will be 21 votes in the caucus from that branch. Fifteen will vote for Sherman and six for Foraker. Adding Foraker's six votes from the senate to those he claims in the house, it gives 47, exactly the number required to nominate, and makes Sherman's vote 40.

Chairman Hahn, of the state republican executive committee, who has been managing Senator Sherman's canvass, and is conceded to be a very shrewd and conservative politician, said to the United Press today that Senator Sherman will have 56 votes in the caucus—15 from the senate and 41 from the house. This is no supposition. We know just every man we claim will vote. We have no doubt at all about the result. No, I will furnish no list of the names of the men who will vote for Sherman, but I will say that there are no "doubtful" men to us. We know and have known for some time just how every man will vote. The caucus will be held in the hall of the house at 8 o'clock tomorrow night. Representative Kissinger, president, Senator Nichols, of Belmont county, has been selected to place Mr. Sherman in nomination, and Representative Griffin, of Toledo, will perform a similar service for Foraker. Outside of his headquarters the opinion seems to prevail generally that it is impossible now to elect Foraker.

THE WORK OF CONGRESS.

Some Members are Eager for Business Session and Early Adjournment. WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—There are a number of leading democrats who desire to have the work of congress expedited and an early adjournment reached and among them Representative McCrery, of Kentucky, who has had an announcement to the rules which may be offered today. Gov. McCrery believed that all the appropriation bills ought to be reported to the house within the next eighty days so that they can receive speedy consideration and ensure an early termination of the session. The amendment reads as follows: It shall be the duty of several committees having jurisdiction of general appropriation bills to report said appropriation bills to the house (except the general deficiency bill), within 80 days after the commencement of a session of congress, and if any committee fail to so report, the reason of such failure shall be privileged for consideration when called for by any member.

Brazil and the Vatican.

ROME, Jan. 5.—It is rumored that the relations between the Vatican and the Brazilian government are so strained that a rupture is imminent. The pope, it is said, has intimated that he will communicate President Piexotto, his cabinet and the members of the Brazilian congress unless measures are taken to renew the former relations between the state and the church. It is said that many churches are without pastors and the seminaries are being deserted because the government refuses to continue contributions.

Eight Killed in a Scarp.

MACON, Ga., Jan. 5.—Eight men were killed in a general fight at Bright & Williams' turpentine still in Clinch county, Saturday. The fight started with a quarrel between two of the men named Ed Williams and John Parker over alleged cheating in a game of cards. Parker began the shooting. Both he and Williams were killed.

The People Are Angry.

NASHVILLE, Jan. 5.—T. Hall, who has killed many persons in cold blood, was removed from Gladesville jail yesterday to save his neck. A mob organized and would have hung him. They advanced on the jail, and were so wild over his removal that they set fire to the structure. Hall was removed to Wixena in a close covered wagon. The people of that section are very angry.

Face Lotion Explodes.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Jan. 5.—Miss Mary Bird, an actress playing at the Grand Opera house, was badly and perhaps fatally burned last night. She was about to retire when her cheeks caught fire by the explosion of a bottle of face lotion which she held in her hand uncorked.

Books for Baconville.

MURDERED AT HIS POST.

The Paymaster of Big Lapping Mines is Murdered by Robbers. ISHPEMING, Mich., Jan. 5.—[Special to The Herald.]—John Gleason, paymaster for the Cleveland Iron Mining and the Iron Cliffs company, was murdered and robbed in the company's office at about 2 o'clock this morning. Gleason had been at work until the hour named, making out the monthly payroll for 800 men employed by the company. The offices are located at the mines, some distance from all other buildings. Just before 1 the nightwatchman had gone into Gleason's office, conversed with him a moment and left to complete his rounds. Returning in half an hour he found Gleason lying on the floor of the vault in front of the safe with a bullet hole in the back of his head. He had evidently just closed the safe. His pockets had been rifled and his watch and a small sum of money had been taken while the watchman was gone from the vault. Gleason was alive when found, dying a few minutes, but did not regain consciousness. The murderer made good his escape, and as yet there is no prospect of his being traced. He had been open the safe.

THE GARZA REVOLUTION.

Some Captured Papers Which Show His Source of Revenue. LAREDO, Texas, Jan. 5.—Startling developments in regard to the Garza revolution were learned last night. The papers found in the saddlebags of Pablo Munoz, one of the captured revolutionists, throws a deal of light on the situation. It proves conclusively that the clerical party is furnishing the money with which the revolution is being conducted. It has long been a source of wonder where Garza secured the money which he has been spending freely. It is now ascertained that Montes de Oca, bishop of Monterey, is the financial agent of the clerical party in furnishing the money. The clerical party is strong and rich and the government is unable to believe there is no trouble brewing, but their actions and preparations are at present such that the government realizes the inevitable and is actively at work. As a result of the trouble even Mexican silver has fallen in price considerably.

SUPREME COURT DECISION.

Must a Railroad Pay a Freight After It Builds a Bridge. WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—In the supreme court Justice Brewer has announced the decision of the court reversing the decision of circuit court for the Southern district of Illinois in the case of the Vicksburg Ferry company appellants against the Ohio & Mississippi company respondents. The decision of the supreme court today compels the latter to pay toll for ferriage across the Mississippi river under an old contract, although the railroad had gained up the use of the ferry and was using a bridge. The contract was made in 1853 for 20 years between the ferry company and a railroad company of which the Ohio & Mississippi became the assignee. The railroad company after it obtained the use of the bridge refused to pay toll to the ferry company and the circuit court sided with the railroad. The supreme court today reverses this holding and remands the cause for a further proceeding.

Gross Earnings Tax Constitutional.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—The supreme court today, through Justice Lamar, announced its decision sustaining the circuit court of the United States for the Western district of Missouri that a law taxing express companies on the amount of their receipts was constitutional.

CHILE IS SORRY

Minister Montt at Washington has Been Instructed to Tender an Apology to Uncle Sam.

This Will Clear up the Whole Matter and Revive our Pleasant Relations to Chile.

The Dispatches are not yet Published, but There is Reason to Believe They Have Been Sent.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—The Herald's correspondent at Valparaiso telegraphs this paper that he hears that the Chilean government has cabled orders to Minister Pedro Montt at Washington to make a sincere apology to the United States for the unfortunate and deplorable attack upon the Baltimore sailors on Oct. 16 last. The apology, he is told, is unqualified in its character. Other matters that are in dispute between Chile and the United States are to be speedily considered by the new administration.

The correspondent also telegraphs that from semi-official sources he learns that the reason the Santiago police are kept in the city is that the American legation is in daily receipt of letters containing matters that are in dispute between Chile and the United States. The government, therefore, desires to have the police near at hand so as to prevent the execution of any such threats.

Washington.—No verification of the rumor called from Valparaiso to the effect that Minister Montt had been ordered to tender an apology from Chile to the United States on account of the Baltimore affair has been obtained here yet.

THREE ARE CHOSEN.

NIPPED IN THE BUD.

One Less Street Astronomer Than He Might Have Been.

Deputy Sheriff Armstrong returned this morning from Minneapolis bringing with him E. Pettit, who here for grand larceny.

The story of the arrest is a very romantic one. Pettit is a man who follows an unusual occupation of caring for grave yards and dead bodies. Last June he heard that the bodies were being removed from the old cemetery, and came to get a "job." He was injured by running a nail in his foot and was unable to work but did not propose to waste his time and before his departure he eloped with a fine observatory telescope, the property of H. W. Pettit.

Nothing could be discovered of his whereabouts and though the robbery occurred last June nothing was heard of Pettit until about two weeks ago.

It is known now that he went direct to Minneapolis, carrying the telescope with him and obtained employment there with the Hillside Cemetery company. He was located there by Detective Horkins and the latter telegraphed at once to the sheriff. Deputy Armstrong went down to make the arrest. Arrived in Minneapolis, the deputy sheriff accompanied the detective to the cemetery and there hidden away in an empty vault amid the decaying bodies was found the alleged thief, and with him the missing telescope, and both were taken into custody.

Pettit was arraigned before the municipal court this afternoon and waived examination. Pettit's object in making away with the telescope is said to have been to start up as a street fakir. He had obtained a brass case to make the instrument appear larger than it really was. He was to stay in hiding until he was certain that no one would remember him in connection with the Duluth theft and then intended to start a corner observatory where the moon and the stars could be studied for 10 cents per study.

The Lucky Number.

The watch given away by Hulberg Bros. Jewellers, 183 West Superior street, was drawn and delivered to me.

Years 'd' at 12 o'clock. I held No. 804 which proved to be the lucky one. The watch received was one of the Ross filled jewels Elgin movement. I consider it well worth the price advertised, and can cheerfully recommend the above firm.

STATE ALLIANCE MEETS.

Seven Hundred of the Faithful Gather by the River.

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 5.—The state farmers' alliance met in annual session here today with 700 delegates in attendance. The morning was spent in the work of preliminary organization and in listening to the annual address of Ignatius Donnelly, the president. This dealt for the most part with the financial and other affairs of the alliance with references to the political achievements of the organization especially in the last legislature. Although there has been no little talk of a fusion between the alliance and the democrats, the leaders declare that the subject will not come up at this meeting. It is the plan to set on foot the organization of the people's party, to which the alliance will give its adhesion along with the labor organizations. Then if there is any fusion it will be between this party and the democracy. The fact that the executive committee of the North Star Democratic club met here tomorrow is pointed to as evidence that such a fusion may be attempted.

To Redistrict Ohio.

COLUMBUS, Jan. 5.—The first bill introduced in the general assembly after its organization yesterday was for redistricting the state for representation in congress, so that the republicans will have 17 congressmen and the democrats four. This city, which has been in a democratic district for 20 years, is thrown in a republican district, though the majority is less than 1000 in a total vote of 35,000. The four democratic districts will have an average majority of 10,000. Congressman Outwater is thrown into a republican district.

Democratic Committee Meetings.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Members of the executive committee of the National association of democratic clubs will meet in Washington on Jan. 20, for the purpose of exchanging ideas and members who cannot be present have been requested to furnish proxies. The national democratic committee will meet on the 21st to select the place of holding the next national democratic convention.

Charles W. Deane, secretary of the Northwestern Lumbermen's association, is in Duluth today making arrangements for the visit of that body to Duluth, Jan. 29. He says 300 will be here to spend the night and look about the city and the rest of the day at the lumbermen's quarters at the Spalding for that number.

These lumbermen, who are mostly the retail dealers of the Northwest, do not ask any assistance of Duluth mill men, nor do they want any spread-eagle time, they come on a little outing of their own account, and after seeing what they came to see, will go home. Still, it is believed that local lumbermen will show them the courtesy of appointing a committee of reception and give the visitors a pleasant look about the city.

This, in fact, is what several local wholesalers and manufacturers of lumber have proposed.

The visitors will have with them a lot of traveling men, and they have made up an amateur minstrel organization, and it is probable that that body will give a performance at one of the theaters here during the visit of the association. No program of what is to be done has yet been given out.

Mr. Hollis went this afternoon to Cloquet, on business connected with the extension, and will return to Duluth in a few days, when he will have the program fully mapped out.

SALE OF MUNDT'S PROPERTY.

The Ed Mundy Lands at Black River Sold to Papermakers.

The Dudley Sims Paper company, of Holyoke, Mass., has, it is said, completed the purchase of lands, including the fairs of Black river on the copper range 15 miles south of this city. The property includes the water power at the falls, and the consideration is $50,000. The Sims company has sold its plant at Holyoke, and will put up a paper mill. It is stated that the deal is on a large scale, that the transfer is a starter, and that 10,000 acres of denuded pine lands along the river will pass to the Holyoke people. The administrator of the Mundy estate, who sold the estate, will not talk.

HILLS DARING PLAN

It may jeopardize the Success of the Republican Party in the Presidential Year.

Presidential Electors to be Chosen by the Legislature and not by Popular Vote.

A Daring and Audacious Plan, but Constitutional and May be Accomplished.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 6.—Yesterday gave the inside history of the meeting between Senator Quay and W. W. Dudley in this city on Sunday last, as related to a Press reporter by a gentleman who came from New York to attend the conference which related to national politics.

It was made known to Quay and Dudley on Sunday that a scheme has been promulgated and will be carried through within six weeks which will jeopardize any possible success of the republican party carrying the state of New York in the presidential election of next year. The plan of the democrats is this: Acting under the powers conferred by the constitution of the United States and their state laws, Hill, with the consent and assistance of the democratic legislature, has determined that the next presidential electors shall be chosen by the legislature, and not by the popular vote of the people. It is a daring and audacious plan, but it is constitutional and can be accomplished.

"Another feature of this proposed Hill scheme is that the enormous sums of money spent in the usual state campaign for the election of electors by popular vote can be reserved for distribution during the canvass in other doubtful states.

"With the exception of West Virginia, they (Quay and Dudley and other prominent leaders and members of the legislature, and not by the popular vote of the people. It is a daring and audacious plan, but it is constitutional and can be accomplished.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Senator Washburn gave Minneapolis and the entire Northwest a neat advertisement yesterday afternoon in presenting his resolution providing an appropriation for a steamship to the American coast, and the starving people of Russia. He emphasized the fact that the movement first originated in Minneapolis, and that the general plan was being carried out by citizens of Minnesota. He read a telegram from W. C. Edgar stating that donations were pouring in so fast that he did not believe that the steamship constellation would be large enough to carry Mr. Edgar and 600,000 pounds of supplies. Mr. Edgar said that the senators and Harris opened the Democratic program of fighting appropriations in connection with this resolution. Senator Gorman asked that some stated senator Washburn be asked for. Senator Washburn cleverly agreed and there was friction. Senator Washburn amended his resolution by asking an appropriation not to exceed $100,000. It was then passed—40 to 9.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—The Regina Leader caused a sensation today by publishing a three-column charge against Hon. Dewdney, minister of the interior. It publishes a facsimile letter written by Dewdney during his incumbency of office as lieutenant governor of the territories. The letter is to his groom, instructing him to hold certain sections of land upon which Dewdney afterwards secured location of Regina, the capital of the territories. The letter charges that other prominent men are mixed up in the transaction and calls for Dewdney's dismissal.

Counterfeiters Captured. ST. LOUIS, Jan. 6.—Yesterday afternoon two United States deputy marshals and two secret service agents went to St. Charles, Mo., and captured four members of a gang of counterfeiters who have been flooding that locality with bogus silver coin. The ringleader is a white man named Edward, and his accomplices are James and John Johnson, and son, negroes. They were captured while at work on a farm about 20 miles north of St. Charles. They were brought to this city last night.

A Crazy German's Awful Work. BURLING, Jan. 6.—John A. Carpenter, entered the house of a mason named Kleindrusts at Kreuznach, yesterday, and began an indiscriminate shooting. He killed the mason's son, and wounded his daughter. Then returning to his own house, he barricaded the doors, shot his two children dead, and as the police were breaking into the house with axes, he finished his bloody work by committing suicide.

Lost With All Hands. LONDON, Jan. 6.—There is no longer any doubt that the British steamship Cavalier has been lost with all hands. The bodies of the second officer and of the steward of the vessel have been washed ashore along the Cornish coast. Several days ago a boat marked Cavalier was picked up off the Scilly Islands. The Cavalier left Gibraltar on Dec. 8th, for Falmouth.

Donnelly Wins. MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 6.—In the session of the farmers alliance yesterday afternoon Ignatius Donnelly was re-elected president for the ensuing year on the following vote: Ignatius Donnelly, 47; H. W. Brandenberg, 40; S. M. Owen, 4; H. P. Bjorge, 2; T. J. Meighen, 1; E. T. Champlin, 1.

The Grip Goes Marching South. NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 6.—The grip has at last made its appearance in this city. The first two deaths from the disease were reported yesterday. For the first time in years every one of the 755 beds in the Charity hospital is occupied.

Pocket and counting house diaries and calendar pads for 1892.

IN CONGRESS TODAY.

Both Ends of the National Capitol Are Busy With Bills.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Both houses are in session and the capital city has thrown off the holiday quiet which prevailed for a fortnight. Much activity is displayed in both houses and there is every indication that large numbers of bills will soon be before the committees, the silver coinage and features of the McKinley bill attracting most attention.

Word reached the capitol this afternoon that Speaker Crisp's condition is not so favorable today; that his lungs appear to again be affected and seem to be filling up, the continuing pneumonia. No one is allowed to see the speaker. The speaker, it is said, passed a restless night, due to a severe coughing spell and consequently is weaker today. This is the first coughing spell he has had for some time. It was hoped that he was entirely over it, but this morning his rest and and always weakens him.

In the Senate. Vice-President Morton took the chair noon. Mr. Pasco presented a memorial from the state of Florida asking that persons be granted to the survivors of the Seminole Indian war and said that at a future date he would introduce a bill for this purpose.

Mr. Allen presented resolutions adopted by the chamber of commerce of Seattle praying that congress by some liberal appropriations enable the war and navy departments to place our country in a thorough condition of defense. Mr. Allen made a few remarks calling attention to the unprotected condition of the Northwest coast. The resolutions were referred to the committee on military affairs.

SHERMAN THE MAN

The Old Statesman Will Carry off the Senatorial Plum at Tonight's Caucus.

His Nomination Conceded to be Certain Which may Induce Foraker to Withdraw.

The Foraker Faction Still Hopeful and May Hold a Secret Ballot.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Jan. 6.—The senatorial contest will end tonight. The republican caucus will be held in the hall of the house at 8 o'clock. The headquarters of both Foraker and Sherman have been practically deserted by all except their managers and particular friends for several days—a fact which indicates the failing interest since it became generally conceded that Sherman would be nominated beyond a doubt.

The Sherman managers have added two more to their claims and will announce that Sherman will have in the caucus 58 votes, 15 from the senate and 43 in the house, and the easy feeling which prevails in the Sherman headquarters indicates that they are at least perfectly confident of Sherman's nomination by a safe majority, though they still refuse to give a list from members who will vote for Sherman.

Ex-Governor Foraker's managers still claim the election, and there is no sign this morning that his name will not be at least placed in the caucus. A leading Sherman man said to the Press that he was not at all surprised that it was anticipated on the Sherman side that the developments of today would induce Governor Foraker to announce his withdrawal. If that is his intention, however, he is keeping it carefully concealed.

A movement is on foot, evidently managed by the Foraker men, although they deny it, to hold a secret ballot. The Sherman men stoutly oppose this and thus indicate that they have pledged their sufficient members to elect Mr. Sherman. The 15 senators who will vote for Sherman are: Abbott, Bain, F. G. Carpenter, J. Carpenter, Eckley, Green, Hildebrandt, Lamson, Nichols, O'Hill, Phillips, Snyder, Rawlings, Spencer and Iden. The representatives who will vote for him are: Allaman, Brittain, Bloch, Camp, Clark, Clapp, Davis, Dodge, Doty, Fisher, Flickinger, Gallagher, Hale, Haynes, Haskell, Harlan, Heinlein, Hilcomb, Laylin, Martin, McElroy, Richards, Reeve, Southard, Thomas, D. D. Taylor, S. B. Taylor, S. Taylor, J. W. Wells, Wood, Allen, Axline, Dunn, Daugherty, Lute, McCarty, Putney, T. C. Williams, Boxwell and possibly Porter.

This makes the 58 claimed by the Sherman men. It is quite certain that the first 55 members of the caucus named will vote for Sherman and that will give him eight more votes than are necessary for a choice. The Sherman men are confident that they will have 58 votes, and that the caucus will be decided not only that the caucus be opened, but that the vote for senatorial nominee be given, so that each man place himself on record with his vote.

Contrary to expectations the democratic caucus has been held in the office of Governor Campbell at 10 o'clock, and was presided over by James E. Neill, the chairman of the late democratic executive committee, to be United States senator.

It is rumored that 52 members of the republican caucus have signed an agreement to vote for a secret ballot in the caucus tonight. If this is true it may mean a priori that the votes are counted as the desire for a secret ballot on the part of any member of the caucus could only mean that he intends to vote differently from the way he has openly pledged himself. Fifty-two is a clear majority in the caucus and could easily carry such a motion should the desire to do so. At the Foraker headquarters this morning they deny any knowledge of such a pledge. At the Sherman headquarters they say they know nothing about the scheme except by indirect report, but that they believe there is such a plan on foot.

The Foraker management has sought to fight Senator Sherman on his work in national legislation against labor organizations and a great many resolutions declaring against the return of the senator to the United States. The Sherman men have been adopted by the labor organizations. This work was intended to culminate in a resolution against the senator, to be taken up by the state trade and labor assemblies now in session here, but it was defeated last night by a vote of 35 to 45.

The Bering Sea Controversy. LIVERPOOL, Jan. 6.—Sir George Smyth Baden-Powell, M. P., the British Bering sea commissioner, starts for Washington on Saturday next. The British commissioner in an address which he made last night said that England and the United States had agreed upon a basis for a settlement of the Bering sea difficulty and that he hoped the matter would be brought to a satisfactory conclusion.

Sir George Baden-Powell added that he hoped, before the World's fair at Chicago was opened, to see a line of fast passenger steamers running between England and Canada and that this line would have a good share of the travel the fair would promote between the Old World and the new.

Accident on the Wabash. JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Jan. 6.—A terrible collision occurred yesterday on the Wabash road at a small station east of Hannibal. Six men were killed outright, two probably fatally injured and many others badly hurt.

NEW BILLS INTRODUCED.

Some Important Measures to be Considered by Congress This Session.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—A bill appropriating $50,000 for a public building at Kansas City, Kas., was introduced by Mr. Pfeiffer in the senate yesterday. Senator Pfeiffer also introduced a bill to prohibit dealing in options and futures and the formation of trusts and combinations and to punish conspiracies against freedom of trade.

Senator Hiscok introduced a bill to increase postal facilities and to expedite the distribution, collection and delivery of mails in cities having a population of 150,000.

Mr. Chandler proposed the following amendment to the constitution of the United States: "No person of foreign birth not a citizen of the United States, shall be allowed to vote for any officer, state or national."

A bill to provide for the payments of awards by the court of claims in French spoliation claims cases was introduced by Senator Higgins.

Senator Kyle introduced a bill appropriating $10,000 for a public building at Pierre, S. D. He also introduced a bill to provide for the sinking of artesian wells in arid land districts. The bill places $300,000 at the disposal of the secretary of agriculture, not more than $300,000 to be used in any state or territory.

A bill appropriating $4,000,000 for the erection of a building in Chicago was introduced in the house by Mr. Taylor, of Illinois. The building is to be erected on the site of the present postoffice and is to be used as a postoffice, federal court house, sub-treasury, custom house and other necessary federal offices not provided for. It is to be constructed so as to occupy all the available area of the present site to the street lines on all sides, and all the material of the old building is to be used in the new so far as practicable.

Among the other bills introduced in the house were a number providing for free coinage of silver, and proposing amendments to the constitution so as to elect president, vice president and senators by a direct vote of the people. The McKinley bill was attacked all along the line and if the different amendments carry there will not be much left of that document by the close of the session.

An appropriation of $1,000,000 to erect at Benicia, Cal., the necessary buildings for a gun factory for the army and navy and for the construction of all accessories thereto, except as allowed by the act as to ordnance and gunnery is provided for by a bill introduced by Senator Felton.

Senator Chandler has introduced an amendment to the interstate commerce act providing that giving free transportation, except as allowed by the act, shall be deemed unjust discrimination and shall be punished as provided by the act.

Mitchell Declines to Fight. CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—President Noel, of the Olympic club, New Orleans, telegraphed to this city yesterday that the Olympic club would offer a purse of $12,000 for a finish fight between Charlie Mitchell and Fitzsimmons, the same to take place Feb. 27. Mitchell promptly declined to accept, and said: "Before I left England on this trip, I issued an ultimatum to the effect that I would have no more finish fighting."

Blizzard in the Dakotas. CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—Dispatches from points in Illinois, Iowa and Minnesota report the heaviest snow storm of the season, the fall in most places being over six inches. Intensely cold weather prevails in the Northwest. Forman, N. D., reports the worst storm of the season. At Bristol, S. D., snow has been falling all day and a blizzard is sweeping the surrounding country. Other dispatches from the Dakotas are of the same tenor.

Chicago Boulevard. CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—It is proposed to cut Jackson street through from Fortieth to Forty-eighth streets. When this street is opened it is the intention to turn it over to the park commissioners as a boulevard. The extension of other streets will cut the old Garfield Park grounds into pieces.

A Fall Mall Opinion. LONDON, Jan. 6.—The Pall Mall Gazette says it hopes the United States will see no further trouble with Chile as substantially justice has been done to the rotters and the United States would best consult her dignity by frankly admitting this to be the case.

A Claim Against Chile. SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 6.—Papers have been forwarded to Secretary Blaine for a claim against Chile for $50,000 by Patrick Shields, the fireman of the steamer Keweenaw, who was maltreated while in Valparaiso by a Chilean mob.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS. Pension payments for the month so far aggregate $1,294,000. The Rt. Rev. Dr. O'Reilly, Roman Catholic bishop of Liverpool, is dangerously ill.

Eight men were killed in a general fight at Bright and Williams' turpentine still in Clinch county, Ga., Saturday. Congressman Hall has introduced bills for a railroad bridge at South St. Paul; for free refined sugar and to place binding twine on the free list.

Oliver W. Terris, agent of the Marquette Journal company at Ishpeming has disappeared. He is several hundred dollars short in his accounts. The usual constitutional amendment to provide for woman suffrage, which has made its appearance annually for some years, will be introduced in congress this session by Representative Greenleaf.

The trial trip of the warship Venezuela yesterday was perfectly successful, the vessel maintaining an average speed of over 14 knots for four consecutive hours. The Venezuela is a new vessel lately constructed by the Gramp.

In the circuit court of appeals, San Francisco, yesterday, the suit brought by the government against the schooner Robert and Minnie for violating the neutrality laws in furnishing arms to the Chilean steamer Itata, was dismissed. At the Holland House in New York city today, there will be a conference of the heirs and claimants to the Davis estate, with a view to settling the long-continued controversy without further legal proceedings.

Arnold Albrecht, city editor of the Toledo German Express, met his death last evening while on his way home. He boarded an electric car and as it was crowded he remained on the platform and stepped off at the next stop. As the car rounded a curve Albrecht lost his balance and fell to the ground, striking on his head in such a manner as to break his neck.

The Weather.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN., Jan.
6.—A cold wave has been without warning rushed down from the Northwest and extends as far south as Kansas. It is not severe, the lowest temperature being 18° below zero at St. Louis, and promises to be of short duration, as a storm is moving in over the Northwest and has already raised the temperature in that section to 25° above zero.

With the exception of Buffalo, Cleveland and St. Louis, where it is snowing, the weather is clear and little snow of consequence has fallen.
For this section slight changes may be expected today and it will probably get colder tonight followed tomorrow by rising temperature.
The highest temperature here yesterday was 25°, the lowest last night 6° below zero.

DULUTH, Jan. 6.—Local forecast for Duluth and vicinity for twenty-four hours ending at 8 a. m. Jan. 7: Continued cold and fair.
H. H. BROWN, Observer.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—For Minnesota: Fair; colder east, warmer Thursday west; northwest winds.
For the Dakotas: Fair; warmer tomorrow; northwest winds.
For Wisconsin: Clearing; cold wave; northwest winds.

Hereafter the condition of forecast of temperature will be considered to mean that the temperature is expected to remain nearly stationary, that is, that the 24-hour change will not exceed four degrees from April to October, or six degrees from November to March.

DULUTH TO THE SEA—AN OBJECT LESSON.
All along the lakes there is just now a loud and earnest agitation for a deep waterway from Duluth to the sea. It is fit and proper that this should be so. To cheapen transportation and thereby to facilitate the exchange of commodities, measures a vast saving to the producer and consumer. It is oil poured on the wheels of commerce.

But why do we want deep water to the sea? Certainly that we may trade beyond the ocean.

If, then, we spend a hundred millions to get our goods out and establish trade with our neighbors, on what logical ground can we impose a tariff that will cost us hundreds of millions more to get their goods in?

If we are afraid of foreign competition, why make a deep channel to the sea? Would it not be wiser to let our competitors get over the rocks and rapids the best way they can?

A hundred millions or any less amount is too much to spend just for the sake of putting the tariff higher to prevent an overflow of cheap foreign fabrics.

Those that are fearful that American institutions cannot stand the shock of a little trade with England, should hurry to hush up this deep water scheme or we shall be swamping products with John Bull very soon.

It is evident the vessels that carry our grain and food to Liverpool must bring something back, else charge a double rate one way, which would be a detriment to all concerned.

As a matter of fact, however, need we fear the competition of Europe? If Duluth can compete with Pittsburgh and build up manufacturing institutions in the face of natural lake competition, may she not enter the larger arena and challenge the competition of the world?

Is it the much-heralded pauper labor of continental Europe or the comparatively high priced labor of England that can compete closely with our own? Is any one afraid of Italy's highly protected Lazaro?

Have we not as a nation reached that point in our development where our institutions cannot be crushed by envious rivals? Are we not now nearly ready to go on with this deep outlet to the sea and invite the nations of the earth to send their freight-laden vessels to our inland waters?

Marvelous in resources and surpassing all in the inventive genius of our people, we have naught to fear and much to gain through closer commercial relations with our neighbors over the sea.

The interests of Duluth demand that the hand of government be laid lightly as may be upon the commerce which is destined to make our city great. We want all its efforts between the States and the Downland wiped away, and no pirate of it in the name of Liberty should anchor at the entrance to our waters and demand a moiety for the privilege of trade. Give to the Yankee nation a wider field of operations and when exchange becomes unprofitable it will stop.
Dig the channel deep and broad, bring us closer to those who buy, make the world our market, and away with those restrictions that may serve the wants of babes and hermits but not of men and nations in their palmy days.

Dwight E. Woodbridge, who, in point of continuous service, is the oldest newspaper man in Duluth, severed his connection with The Herald last evening and today becomes the secretary of the Real Estate exchange. He was with the Duluth News when it started almost six years ago, afterwards went with Col.

Lounsbury on the Journal, and from that paper went to The Herald when the latter absorbed the Journal in 1888.
Since then he has seen The Herald pass through many solemn changes, being sometimes in the hands of the sheriff and anon in the hands of its friends. Pursuant to a long cherished desire, the realization of which the almost cupid-like fascination of the profession has heretofore prevented, he now takes leave of arduous journalistic labors to traverse the more lucrative highways of happiness. He still retains his interest and faith in The Herald, which under his guardian care has attained prosperity, and goes forth into a wider field with the interested friendship of all his Herald associates and the fullest confidence of the wide circle who have known him from boyhood in Duluth.

MORNING AND EVENING PAPERS.
Our attention has been called to an editorial article in yesterday's News in which an effort is made to show that the morning paper after all is good for something and that the evening paper on whose glories we have heretofore justly expatiated, had not quite driven its sunrise contemporaries out of the field. The News is a very good paper of its kind, and not having much of any advertising, gives considerable space to yesterday's happenings after they have already been presented to the public in our own two-light twinkler.

The morning paper is merely a commentator on what is past—and what a commentary some of them are—while the evening paper gives us news of today and at a time when the public has a few hours of leisure to read it. It is the cheerful fireside companion in hours of long uninterrupted ease, and being more cheerfully perused by all members of the charmed home circle, is the adversizing medium par excellence of the advertiser.

The evening paper also gives the grain, money and stock markets as they close, about eighteen hours ahead of its morning rivals and in time to do some good in these days when, as President Harrison has said, it is markets, not maxims, we are after. Darkness reigns between the news of the day and the morning paper, while its staff of owl-like geni provol about at night in aging strange things and portraying weird untruths. The evening paper on the other hand is prepared by sunlight under the supervision of men who sleep nights and come in contact with the busy life of the town by day. It needs no dark lantern brigade.

The New York Sun and World were forced to print evening editions to hold the field, and these are now more widely read at home than their morning half brother issues. The Evening Star in Washington is a marvel of success while its morning contemporaries have had to fight for life.
In a reading population of 15,000 it has close to 35,000 circulation and thus reaches every home which no morning sheet anywhere can do. The Atlanta Journal, an evening paper, also greatly surpasses the morning Constitution in home patronage. And so we might go on over the whole country. But we need only add that the farther west we go the better is the evening field. When The Herald goes to press it is nearly midnight in London, so that the evening paper has the civilized world at its command. It is also an hour later in Washington and New York than here, and the evening paper when in shape to handle all the news it can gather, as The Herald will soon do, is the one great and glittering journalistic success of this mundane sphere.

WHALEBACK WARSHIPS.
The proposition to build whaleback revenue cutters for the lake service has called the attention of vessel architects to the unique warships launched by the French government in 1868. The Herald is indebted to the Evening Wisconsin for the cut on another page made from a photograph of these remarkable monsters.

The fact that they closely resemble the modern whaleback in no way detracts from the genius and enterprising spirit of our distinguished townsman, Capt.
Alex. McDougall, who in the face of ridicule and discouragements pushed his patent float to success. It is natural enough that when things are coming his way all should agree the principle of the whaleback is a good one and that, come to think of it, they remember seeing whalebacks when they were boys. But in spite of these memories and resemblances, the expression of wonder and incredulity was but a few months ago broad as the world save only the upper lip.

We therefore congratulate the whaleback inventor that he has the practical endorsement of the French admiralty under the third Napoleon.

The High school lecture association was permanently organized yesterday, and thus Duluth goes marching on. The best educators in the country will give our folks their ripest thought, and the association promises to have much influence for good at the head of the lakes.
It is creditable to our city that such an undertaking has met with so large a measure of success that when the first course of ten lectures is completed another will in all probability be immediately begun.

The Pioneer Press has turned its intellectual batteries upon the argument of the option dealers that they hold prices steady, and there isn't much ground left for them to stand on. A few figures which appear in another column show how very steady breadstuffs prices were held during the year just closed. Trading in wind hasn't the advantage even of helping the weather as we handle the actual stuff, comparatively little aerial performing is done in Duluth.

We are not sure he wanted to be quoted, but when Senator Frank A. Day, of Fairmont, was in Duluth recently to sell a block of real estate and provide a congressional campaign fund in the Second district, he remarked that if he wasn't a republican he would be a Dave Hill democrat. In short, Frank believes in getting there.

done the same by the end of the week.
In most things the urban twins are rather slow but they have beat us this time. When are we going to chip in?

State Senator James Alexander Tawney, of Winona, is a prospective candidate for congress in the First district. Mr. Tawney's voice has a clear metallic ring, but we have no further evidence that he favors free silver.

The report that the democrats and the alliance men would unite to divide the state offices and electoral delegates is looked upon by some as a premature truth.

These are the days when the "close and in-imate" friend gets in his work. And he won't let up until after the conventions are held.

IF FORKNEY is elected to the senate it is said doesn't live in Ohio.

his philosophy success is incompatible with true greatness.

district, he should be careful to buckle on his armor.

A two-guinea prize for "The Best was won by Miss Nellie Bradwood, of "A tiny feather from the wing of love dropped into the sacred lap of motherhood."

The following is a selection from some of the best definitions submitted:

WEAK FIRST ATTACKED.

Best Way to Cure Grip is to Prevent It.

The Disease Attacks Those Who Are Weak and Run Down.

"It is wonderful," said one of the best-known physicians in town yesterday, "how many things are being advertised to relieve the grip."

But I tell you the best way to cure this disease is to prevent it. The best preventative we know is Paine's celery compound.

"Grip attacks those who are weak and run down.
Paine's celery compound makes the weak strong."

Throughout the medical profession the opinion prevails that the grip has such a depressing effect upon the vitality of the patient that hidden and dangerous weaknesses are almost certain to be developed.

"In cases of grip there is nothing equals Paine's celery compound. It conquers that prostration which is so often fatal, and the weakened sufferer grows strong, robust, and vigorous under its fortifying influence."

MIGHTY SHERMAN.

First in the Senate, First in Ohio, First in the Hearts of His Countrymen.

Senator John and His Followers Win an Easy Victory Over Governor Foraker.

Foraker Did Not Know He Was Fighting the Whole United States.

COLUMBUS, Jan. 7.—As was anticipated in yesterday's dispatches, the Foraker and Sherman men first locked horns in the senatorial caucus last night on the question of how the ballots should be taken—secret or viva voce.

The Foraker men urged a secret ballot on the ground that it has been charged that a number of members were being coerced. They wished, they said, to relieve all members of constraint. The Sherman men contended that each member represented a constituency, that they were supposed to vote their wishes, and they should have the privilege of knowing whether the Foraker men, or, as mis-represented them. Fully an hour was spent in debate on this question. The vote stood 47 in favor of the viva voce vote to 44 for a secret ballot. It was thus evident that some Sherman men wanted a secret ballot, and some excitement followed.

Senator Sherman presented the name of Senator Sherman in an eloquent speech, dwelling upon his record as a financier. Representative Griggs presented the name of ex-Governor Foraker, expatiating upon his soldier record. Numerous seconding speeches to both these nominations were made. Representative Welch, in what must have been his maiden speech, presented Maj. McKinley's name, but it was soon afterward withdrawn by a telegram from Maj. McKinley. This did not deter Welch, however, from voting for his candidate. Representative Dicks presented the name of Charles Foster.

As the ballot proceeded there was no demonstration except that when Porter, of Cleveland, a doubtful man, voted for Foraker, the Foraker men shouted, and when Padney, of Cleveland, another doubtful man voted for Sherman, the Foraker men shouted. The first ballot resulted: Sherman 53; Foraker 38; Foster, 1; McKinley, 1; necessary to a choice, 47.

After the vote was announced, both Sherman and Foraker were brought to the hall. Senator Sherman spoke first and after thanking the members of the caucus, complimented Mr. Foraker upon his fight, saying it was the hardest fight he had ever entered, and he hoped he would never have him for an opponent again.

Ex-Governor Foraker spoke in a good natured way, saying he did not regret when he entered the fight that when a man begins to fight John Sherman he has to fight the whole United States.

The excitement attending last night's caucus has almost entirely subsided. The speeches made by ex-Governor Foraker in the caucus after the nomination, and at the Neil house are highly spoken of and he has certainly made himself more popular in his defeat. Senator Sherman in his victory, Foraker's enemies in his own party who know his disposition to say something bitter upon such occasions, speak highly of his conduct in accepting defeat.

The nomination of Sherman is accepted as the logical result of the campaign of last fall, when the republicans at a meeting of leaders here unanimously decided to support Sherman and not the tariff should be made the chief issue. Senator Sherman by reason of his prominence in his party as a financier, was by that act made next to Maj. McKinley, the most important personage in the campaign and the fact was recognized by a majority of his party.

A Much Married Man. CLEVELAND, Jan. 7.—The day after Christmas John Anderson, of St. Louis, deserted his wife in this city, taking with him $1200 belonging to the woman. It was on the wedding trip of the couple that this occurred. The bride had formerly been Mrs. Ellen Purcell, of St. Louis. As soon as the news of this desertion, which occurred soon afterward, was made public, a series of women claims each case he got all his victims' money, lived with her for a time and then deserted her. He is now in the hands of the police for deserting with Mrs. Purcell's money. The police are of the opinion that the returns from his wives are not yet in.

Important Catholic Congress. CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—At a meeting yesterday of the sub-committee appointed by the Baltimore council to make preliminary preparations for the International Catholic congress, to be held in this city in 1893, it was decided to issue a call for the congress to meet on Monday, Sept. 5, 1893, and hold daily sessions till Friday, Sept. 9. It was decided to make an effort to secure the attendance of the pope and to have the congress opened by him. It is expected there will be 500 delegates present, including the most eminent catholic churchmen of the world. The public session will be held in the Auditorium.

A Town Demolished. FAYETTEVILLE, Ga., Jan. 7.—This town was visited by a terrible cyclone last night. Three people were killed and a number of others injured and the little town was almost swept out of existence. It was only in the evening that the cyclone swooped down on the town. A path of 300 yards was swept through the town and for three miles east of it continued. The dead, so far as reported, are Will Travis, a farmer, 30 years old; Sallie Graham, 10 years old, and a negro child not yet identified.

A Distinguished Soldier Dead. WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Gen. John Irvin Gregg, a distinguished soldier of the war with Mexico and the late war, died at his residence in this city yesterday in his 66th year.

The Khedive Dead. CAIRO, Jan. 7.—The khedive of Egypt who has been ill for some time with influenza, died today.

A Stab at Bismarck. BERLIN, Jan. 7.—The government to-day commenced the prosecution of Count Limburg Stirum, a pensioned member of the diplomatic corps, for writing a series of violent articles in the Zeitung against the commercial treaties. In some quarters it is believed that this is a direct intimation to another retired diplomatist public criticism of an adverse nature of government measures will no longer be tolerated.

LARGEST CROP ON RECORD.

Estimates of the Area, Product and Value of Cereals for 1891.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The estimates by states and territories of the area, product and value of cereals of the United States for 1891, by the statistician of the department of agriculture were sent to the press today.

The crops of corn, wheat and oats, including all but 2 or 3 per cent of the cereals, are reported. The total for corn has been exceeded but once. The wheat product is the largest ever grown in the country, and the yield per acre in the United States is the largest ever reported by the department of agriculture. The total for oats was slightly exceeded in 1889. The aggregates are as follows: Corn—Area, 76,204,515 acres; product, 2,060,154,000 bushels; value, $836,439,220.

Wheat—Area, 30,016,807 acres; product, 61,780,000 bushels; value, $513,472,711.

Oats—Area, 25,818,861 acres; product, 735,540,000 bushels; value, $232,312,267.

The aggregate of all cereals is the largest produced and will supply 53 to 55 bushels per unit of population. The total for corn is the largest ever reported in proportion to population, averaging 9.4 against 9.2 for the largest previous crop, the 1884. The average value to the farmer is 40.6 cents for corn, $3.03 for wheat and 31.46 cents for oats. The value of wheat is greater than in any year since 1853, that of the short crop of 1888 alone excepted.

SKIRMISH WITH GARZA.

Our Boys in Blue Put the Mexican Revolutionists to Flight.

LAREDO, Tex., Jan. 7.—A telegram received here last evening from Gen. Reyes, commanding the Mexican troops now operating on the border against the Garza revolutionists, states that a considerable engagement took place Tuesday evening between the United States troops and a band of Garza's troops at the La Loma crossing on the Rio Grande, in which the Garza men were put to flight, leaving a number of horses and arms in possession of the United States forces. The fight took place on the bank of the river and two bandits jumped into the river to make their escape. One of them was shot and the other taken prisoner by the Mexican troops who had moved along the river front on the Mexican side, in connection with the United States forces.

A later telegram says that a report had reached Gen. Reyes that a detachment of American cavalry, escorting a lot of captured Garza men to Brownsville for trial by the United States court, were attacked by a company of Garza men near Edinburgh and the prisoners rescued.

Garza May Be Captured.

San Antonio, Tex., Jan. 7.—According to an official in the government office here the capture of the Mexican revolutionist is expected within a few hours. He says that the Mexican has been discovered in his hiding place, a short distance from San Antonio, and that a big force of men is already on the way to capture him.

RECIPROCITY, NOT POLITICS.

The Gist of Secretary Blaine's Letters to President McKinley.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The government has opened the doors. Private enterprise must do the rest.

This is the kernel of Secretary Blaine's reciprocity letter to the Boston merchant. The letter is a banquet to the night. The secretary enlarges upon this idea. He shows what the administration has been able to do under the influence of the McKinley bill. He points out that while the markets are opened for the merchants of the United States, the government cannot sell their goods for them and does not undertake to do so. What it has done is to place the river front on the Mexican side, in connection with the United States forces.

After the vote was announced, both Sherman and Foraker were brought to the hall. Senator Sherman spoke first and after thanking the members of the caucus, complimented Mr. Foraker upon his fight, saying it was the hardest fight he had ever entered, and he hoped he would never have him for an opponent again.

AN ECONOMICAL CONGRESS.

The House Declines to Furnish Free Freight for Russian Supplies.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—In the house yesterday the Washburn joint resolution was considered as committee of whole. After a long discussion Mr. Holman's amendment to strike out the clause appropriating $100,000 to carry out the purposes of the resolution was carried by a vote of 166 yeas, 70 nays. Mr. Breckinridge then moved to postpone the resolution indefinitely. The amendment was carried by a vote of 166 yeas, 70 nays. The resolution was, therefore, indefinitely postponed. The house then adjourned until noon today.

Strike Threatened at Carnegie's. PITTSBURGH, Jan. 7.—Affairs at Carnegie, Phipps & Co.'s Homestead steel works threaten to become serious. The Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers intends to demand a large increase over the scale of wages now in force. The indications are that this will be refused and a struggle seems probable.

Cyclone in Florida. OAKLAND, Fla., Jan. 7.—Yesterday morning a terrific tornado accompanied by thunder and lightning traversed the prairie at the east end of the town. There it struck H. Roper's 2-story cottage, overturned it and instantly killed Mrs. Roper. Three of her children escaped with slight injuries. Several other houses were unroofed and blown down.

Blaine Confined at Home.

There were many inquiries as to the residence of Secretary Blaine this morning as to the condition of the distinguished gentleman. They were all informed that the secretary is much better but that under the doctor's advice, he would remain indoors today. Mrs. Blaine is confident that Mr. Blaine will be all right and able to go out tomorrow.

Big Conspiracy Unearthed.

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—An alleged widespread conspiracy to fleece bankers and brokers by means of forged mortgages on city property owned by non-resident owners has been unearthed by the police. Last night four men were locked up at the central station charged with fleeing W. G. Press, of the banking firm Press & Co., Nos. 2 and 4, Sherman street, of $7000 by means of forged instruments of transfer. Their names are P. W. MacWhorter, a real estate man, who formerly had an office on La Salle street; H. C. Doherty and Charles Doherty, printer, living at No. 148 Monroe street and W. Henderson. The police claim to have a clear case against the accused.

Seized a Brewery.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 7.—The Jackson brewery was seized yesterday by internal revenue collectors for brewing 21,000 barrels of beer more than the internal books show. The tax on a barrel of beer containing about 30 gallons is $1 so the brewery has defrauded the government $21,000. This is estimated to be worth $50,000.

The Dubois-Claggett Contest.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The contest between Messrs. Dubois and Claggett for the senatorship from Idaho will come up tomorrow before the senate committee on privileges and elections, which will consider in a preliminary way the mode of procedure. The first formal meeting of the beginning of the inquiry will be held Tuesday next.

The Blaine Divorce Case.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—Counsel for J. G. Blaine, Jr., said yesterday his client would not object to a divorce were it not for the child whose custody is at stake. If some arrangement can be made by Mr. Blaine to keep the boy with him a portion of each year he may agree to the compromise which has been discussed.

The W. O. T. U. Protest.

HARTFORD, Conn., Jan. 7.—Helen Bros. wholesale and retail liquor dealers, recently gave $250 toward a new W. O. T. U. building. The W. O. T. U. has adopted resolutions condemning the W. M. C. A. for accepting the money. The matter occasions much comment.

Revenues of France.

A WAR SCARE.

Alarming Reports From Tangiers of a War-Like Nature.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—The stock exchange today is in a state of wild excitement owing to a very war-like rumor. The report as spread is to the effect that British war vessels at Tangiers have landed a force of blue jackets and marines at that place. It is added that the French admiral there has given the British admiral notice that France gives England 24 hours in which to re-embark her landing party, and that if this is not done at the expiration of that time the French fleet will attack the British war ships. It is supposed that this startling report is simply a canard circulated by bourse speculators; but the excitement prevailing shows how dangerous the situation in Morocco is believed to be. Enquiries made at the admiralty and at the foreign office failed to obtain a confirmation or a denial of the news referred to, but the report has spread with marvelous rapidity and is now the craze topic of London. The report, though discredited on all sides, is causing a most dangerous feeling in the stock market. It is expected that an official report will be issued from official sources. Many people of prominence express the opinion that the official contradiction has been too long delayed and say that the government should leave no stone unturned in an endeavor to track down and punish those who first circulated the rumor, if it turns out to be untrue.

THE BERING SEA DISPUTE.

To be Placed in the Hands of Seven Arbitrators.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—In diplomatic circles the opinion prevails that the hitch in the Bering sea negotiations at present is the change in the attitude of the British government regarding the number of arbitrators. The original proposition, to which the United States assented was that each country should name a single arbitrator and these two should agree upon a third. The British government now asks that the number be increased to seven, the United States to name two, Great Britain to name two and these four to choose three more. Some objection is being raised by Secretary Blaine to a change in the original understanding, but if the British government insists that there shall be seven arbitrators the United States, it is thought, will yield. President Harrison has been willing from the first to submit the questions in dispute to any fair tribunal, and to abide by its decision. He would be quite willing to leave the matter to the head of some leading European country. He had been anxious to bring the matter to a conclusion.

THE RUSSIAN FAMINE.

A Reliable Statement of the Suffering in the Famine Districts.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 7.—A cablegram from Charles Emery Smith, the American minister to Russia, was received yesterday by Governor Merriam. It was in reply to a message sent to him on the 28th of December requesting a reliable statement of the suffering in the famine districts of Russia and was as follows: "The distress in Russia from the short crop is widespread and severe. It is difficult to overdraw the extent of the suffering. Many provinces are destitute and must be helped until next harvest. I am able to say that the proposed contributions of Minnesota and the Northwest indicated in your dispatch will be accepted with most grateful appreciation."

SUB-TREASURY ENDORSED.

The Farmers of Minnesota Will Join the People's Party.

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 7.—The state alliance today adopted a series of resolutions, the most important plank of which was that endorsing the sub-treasury. There was an animated debate over the plank and when it came to a vote it was adopted 46 to 34. The people's party was endorsed, thus securing the formal organization of that party in Minnesota.

Governor Russell's Message.

BOSTON, Jan. 7.—The annual message of Governor Russell was presented to the Massachusetts legislature today. The governor is recommended to remedy the evils of the lobby and to limit its influence; to extend the municipal powers of cities and towns; to reduce the hours of labor of women and children in factories and work shops; to protect railroad employees against the dangers to which they are exposed.

The Weather.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN., Jan. 7.—A storm of light rain is central over Northwestern Minnesota this morning and another is over the lower lakes, with considerable rain and snow in the last 24 hours and still continuing.
The heaviest amount was over nine inches at Buffalo. Light snow is falling over the entire Northwest.
The cold wave which was mentioned yesterday is moving down the Mississippi valley and bringing the lowest morning temperatures of the season along the lower lakes. The temperatures have fallen to zero at St. Paul, 15° at Duluth, 12° at Port Arthur, and 14° at St. Vincent and Winnipeg. At all other stations in the Northwest, the warmest places being in the Northwest. The temperatures are: Buffalo 21° (Cleveland) 22°, Indianapolis 16°, St. Louis 15°, Kansas City 16°, Detroit 15°, Milwaukee 15°, Chicago 15°, St. Paul 15°, Minneapolis 15°, Duluth 12°, S. D. 15°, Nebraska 15°, Missouri 15°, Iowa 15°, Wisconsin 15°.
The lowest temperature here last night was 9° below and was, by a fraction of a degree, the lowest of the season. The highest temperature yesterday was 15° above, and the average temperature of the day 15° below zero, while the average for 24 hours was 11° above.

THE FARMER MOVEMENT.
The re-election of Ignatius Donnelly as president of the Minnesota state alliance by the overwhelming majority of ten to one, is a just recognition of a man of genius. His name and talents have distinguished the movement in the state, while his masterly efforts on the stump have brought victory to the farmers' party at the polls. The alliance could not afford to ignore the Sage of Ninger, and the outcome of the convention proves conclusively it had no purpose of doing so. We congratulate the grangers on the wisdom of their choice, which gives the tie to those who said years ago that Donnelly would have no following another season. The victory was an easy one, a walk away, an almost unanimous thing, and those who imagined that by traducing Donnelly they could wear away his followers must see by this time that they have only added to his strength.

The large numbers and solid front presented by the alliance in its convention, about 700 delegates being in attendance, is convincing proof that the political power of the farmers in the state is not on the wane and that the voice of Ignatius has not lost its cunning.
Those who thought that by this time the so-called crane would pass away may now safely revise their prediction by adding several years at least for its fulfillment.
The conclusion cannot be avoided that the farmers of Minnesota—and they are but a sample of the whole Northwest—are in the saddle and will keep their tires in the stirrups till substantial legislation in their interest is secured. In much that they ask they have the fullest sympathy of all honest people, and no one can deny that exact justice should be done to the men whose toil has made this region what it is. The powers that have been neglectful of rural interests, and it gives every patriot new confidence in his fellows and new faith in the republic that those who are trodden down strike back in their might. Without this spirit of resistance and resentment, the fabric of government would not be worth the making and despotism would hold sway wherever the forms of order were observed. We therefore congratulate our state and country on the noble independence of our yeomen, and while the movement is thoughtlessly condemned by some who cannot agree with the principles set forth, the more considerate must concede that liberty cannot long survive where the oppressor's wrong meets with willing submission. Such a movement is a little inconvenient for the old political parties, but its purpose is not an idle one nor are the fruits sought merely the spoils of office.

The case of Dr. Graves who has just been convicted at Denver, Col., of the murder of Mrs. Barnaby, strongly illustrates the old saying that murder will out. He lives at Providence, Rhode Island, but while in Boston went to the city postoffice and mailed a package.
Others were in waiting at the clerk's window, and in the excitement of the moment Dr. Graves brusquely jostled another gentleman who chanced to be in his way. This action attracted to the doctor and his package the particular attention of the recipient of the discourtesy who afterwards identified the man and the wrapper and thus convicted Dr. Graves of this murder at long range by sending poison to his victim. The doctor while at the postoffice was evidently absorbed in the crime and his rude act was involuntary, but courtesy at that moment might have saved his life and forever concealed the crime.

THE WASHINGTON RESOLUTION.

Every one in the Northwest will endorse anything our members in congress can do to keep this part of the Union and its marvelous resources before the world. On this ground we were pleased enough that Senator Washburn introduced a resolution asking a vessel and an appropriation not to exceed $100,000 to carry our contributions to the starving peasants of Russia. But in view of the fact that Russia as a nation is rich and that the Russian government through its representative at Washington has already expressed its willingness to freely transport whatever food stuffs a generous people see fit to give, we deem very just and reasonable the action of the house in declining to provide such ship. If we have $100,000 or any less amount in the treasury to throw away, let us use it in the purchase of food which a despotic czar will take to his people without money and without price.

It would, indeed, be a pleasing thing if the war vessels of the empire could be transformed into grain carriers, and ceasing to belch forth destruction to mankind, would bear the means of life and the gift of love to a famished and food-trodden people. It is well that Russia should join hands with us in this grateful work to the end that we may give more while she will be brought into closer sympathy with her subjects. A hundred thousand dollars is not much to a great nation like our own, but any amount is too much to throw away when millions are in mourning for hunger's victims and we can hear in our ears the cry for food.
Let us wisely husband our resources that we may give the more where giving can do some good.

THE AWARD ALL RIGHT.

Our semi-official contemporary, the News, complains that the award of the lion's share of the county printing to The Herald was not just, alleges that its bid was lower than that of its flourishing evening contemporary, and thereby impugns the action of the board is not in the best interests of the county. As a matter of fact its bid on some things was lower and on others higher than that of The Herald, so that it depends entirely on the amount of printing under the different classes to determine which bid on the whole would be the cheapest to the taxpayer. This is something no one can know with absolute certainty till the year is past, but the commissions did what they believed was best, and the reader can rest assured that their composite judgment is pretty nearly correct. Then, too, they probably felt it duty to select, for the most important matter, a paper of general circulation.

The Herald has oftentimes taken pleasure in commending the enterprise and public spirit of our neighbors over the bay, and never were these characteristics displayed in larger quantities than at the regular meeting of the Superior city council this week. Recently the mayor of Savannah, Ga., forwarded to the city fathers of our Wisconsin suburb a resolution from the Georgia legislature asking congress to improve the Savannah river from Savannah to the sea.
Our large-hearted neighbors were in full sympathy with the undertaking, but didn't stop with any such slight feeling as that, and on motion of Alderman Morisset a resolution was unanimously adopted asserting the necessity of a deep water way from Superior to Savannah.
It will be built via Duluth and the St.
Lawrence.

The manager of the News is a good business man, a pleasant gentleman, and withal an accommodating fellow, but he won't swap his block of Herald stock for two blocks in the News, another evidence that the evening paper has his confidence as well as his cash. It is the outside country that supports moral papers, and the settlements around the head of the lake being yet rather sparse, Duluth, the solid and superb the natural abode, the bright and shining home, of The Evening Herald. And many there be who read it.

T. Z. Cowles, who for several years has been the popular managing editor of the Pioneer Press, recognizing that the evening paper everywhere has a broader field and comes into closer contact with the local public, has just transferred himself to a like position on the St. Paul Dispatch. The Pioneer Press thus loses one of the best newspaper men in the West, while evening journalism gathers to itself another star.

There is one thing we always did like about Joe Manheim. He had a thorough early training and believes in the good old motto, "If at first you don't succeed, try, try again." Joseph is out making a trial trip for mayor this year on his own recognition, and may get votes enough to let some follower of the faithful in.

The Herald is in receipt from Staff Captain Pebbles, of a copy of the Christmas number of the Salvation army's official organ, the War Cry. The official number is resplendent in illuminated covers, contains twenty-eight pages of army tinged gossip, stories and statistics, and is full of interesting matter to men who are outside the rank and file of Gen.
Booth's curious horde of followers.

The republican city committee having called its party primaries for Wednesday, Jan. 20, and the convention for Thursday, the 21st, the democratic committee will probably get together this evening and follow suit, likely nominating earlier dates. Under the present law the certificates of candidates must be filed with the clerk ten days before an election, and as the election this year falls on Feb. 2, the 21st of January is the latest day on which a convention could be held.

F. H. Frisbie's name has been mentioned as a candidate for alderman in the Fourth ward. Mr. Frisbie is a New York democrat who doesn't think it is wicked to succeed. In fact he has heretofore always preached the true gospel of success. He is just now the presiding elder in Sunday evening services at the Temple Opera.

The republican legislative caucus at Columbus chose wisely last night in naming John Sherman as his own successor in the United States senate. Foraker made a good fight, but even his dashing leadership could not overcome the old man now full of years and laden with a nation's laurels.

John D. Gill, author of "Shall the Boys Raise the Flag," "The Tenth," "What is It?" and other works, is making a great success of the High school lecture course.

The News was an official paper last year; it is a semi-official paper this year, and next year it won't be in it.

The Duluth democrats have organized what they call the Tilden club, for the men who claim that they are to be called "the boys of 76".

pared with the last of the Chicago girls.

The Tolmie Lecture.

Those who are interested in germ diseases, and in microbes, bacteria, and the like, should not fail to witness the magnificent display that will be presented by Professor Tolmie, in the Lyceum theater on Friday evening of this week.
The Duluth Evening Herald, and those who love the sciences of life, will be of great interest, and to anybody who has a desire to pry into the things hidden from the common eye, it will be more than interesting to witness and hear this microscopic and stereoscopic lecture.

A three-act advertisement of the lectures by the Duluth High School Lecture association will always be found in The Duluth Evening Herald, and those who read The Herald carefully will never miss one of these interesting lectures.

The Andrews Opera Company.
The Andrews Opera company gave two performances yesterday, both to good houses. In the afternoon the "Mikado" was given in a very satisfactory way, and the familiar opera apparently has lost none of its powers to please. Andrews as the Mikado, Miss Fitch as Yum Yum and Taylor as Nanki too gave good interpretations in the leading roles.

In the evening "Bohemian Girl" was the opera and though the work, particularly the choruses numbers, was a little heavy for the company the result was not unimpressive. The "Heart Bowed Down" by Andrews and Taylor, and "Me" by Miss Clayton were both rendered excellently well, and the performance ended a triumph of Miss Clayton as the Gypsy Queen.
A very clever piece of work. It cannot be denied, however, that they appear to better advantage in the lighter operas, where the comedy is of such nature as to give "go" to the performance. Tonight "Yalka," one of the newer operas and the one specially well adapted to bring out the strong points of the individual members of the company, will be the bill.

The Society Upon the Stanislaus.
(Bret Harte.)

I reside at Table Mountain, and my name is Franklin James.
I am a very small, dark, and very kind man, and I'll tell in simple language what I know.
What broke up our society upon the Stanislaus?
But first I would remark that it is not a proper man.
For any scientific gentleman to waste his fellow man.
And if a member don't agree with his peculiar whims.
To let for the same member for "put a head" on him.

For nothing could be finer or more beautiful than the first six months' proceedings of that same society.
Till Brown, of Calaveras, bought a lot of fossil bones.
That he found within a tunnel near the tenement of Jones.

Then Brown he read a paper, and he reconstructed there.
From these same bones an animal that was extinct.
And Jones then asked the chair for a suspension Till he could prove that these same bones were one of his lost mules.

Then Brown he smiled a bitter smile and said he was a fool.
It seemed he had been trespassing on Jones' family rank.
He was a most sarcastic man, this quiet Mr.
Brown.
And on several occasions he had climbed out the back window.

Now, I hold it is not decent for a scientific gent to say another is an ass—at least to all in front of the individual who happens to be present.
Reply by heaving rocks at him to any great extent.

Then Abner Dean of Angelo's raised a point of order—when A chunk of old red sandstone took him in the abdomen.
And he smiled a kind of sickly smile, and curled up on the floor.
And the subsequent proceedings interested him no more.
For in less time than I write it, every member did manage In warfare with the remnants of a paleozoic age.
And the way they heaved those fossils in their hands.
Till the skull of an old mammoth carved the head of Thompson in.
And this is all I have to say of these improper games.
For I live at Table Mountain and my name is Franklin James.
And I'll tell in simple language what I know about the row
That broke up our society upon the Stanislaus!

Duluth is the Hub.

Minneapolis Herald: It has been found by recent geographical and geologic surveys made by the government that Minnesota occupies the exact center of the continent of North America, midway between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans, and also midway between Hudson's Bay on the north and the Gulf of Mexico on the south. It is the great water shed of the continent. The head waters of the three great river systems of the continent are within our borders.
From Minnesota you can easily reach the Gulf of Mexico by steamer. By immense steamers, which carry 10,000 bushels of wheat, the Atlantic is reached in a few days, via Duluth and Montreal.
Hudson's Bay is reached via the Red River and Lake Winnipeg. No state in the Union has the same facilities with which nature has furnished our imperial commonwealth.
